

Your hospital needs you

VOLUNTEERS are being called on to help with the fight to save threatened services at Bridport Community Hospital.

Members of the public are needed by pressure group Community Health Campaign in its fight to stop vital services at the hospital being axed.

by Paul Crompton

CHC and Oliver Letwin MP are joining forces to collect information on how the services are delivered, by the Primary Care Trust, and used by patients attending clinics.

Volunteers are needed to conduct surveys on how patients use the services, where they live and their travel arrangements to and from the hospital.

The information, along with that gathered on the service provider, will be used to form a "coherent and strong" argument in favour of keeping the radiography, outpatient and day surgery services in Bridport.

Patients could be forced to make the long and sometimes expensive trip to Dorset County Hospital if the closures are introduced.

Town and district councillor Ros Kayes chaired a meeting, attended by Mr Letwin, health chiefs, CHC members and more than 100 residents, about the proposed cuts last week (see story on page three).

CHC member, Councillor Kayes, said: "Mr Letwin has asked us to get statistics on who is using the hospital, where they are coming from, how they are getting there, how they would get to Dorchester and how much it would cost. What I'm hoping is that between us - and it's really good to see a cross party members pulling together in the same direction - we can get the relevant evidence for the PCT to change its mind. The really important thing in the campaign is that we find out where the capacity for change is and find the weak point in their argument and help them and support them to get the changes we want to see."

To volunteer call Councillor Kayes on 0920 850167.

WESTCOUNTRY born producer, songwriter and musician Chris Anderson has recently returned to his roots after taking a break from his glittering career in the music industry.

Having grown up in Lyme Regis, studying A Level music and completing his piano grades at the Woodroffe School, Chris went on to work with the likes of Cher, Tina Turner and Kylie Minogue.

After graduating from the Gateway School of Music Recording, Chris joined the team that was to become Metro, where in 1996 he worked on Cher's multi platinum award winning track 'Believe'.

Chris went on to work with a host of stars and in 2001 became one of the first recipients of the British Academy of Composers and Songwriters - 'Universal' Chart Newcomers Award.

In Europe Chris co-wrote and produced the debut single for 2002 Spanish 'Pop Idol' finalist Chenoa and in 2003 Chris had a song recorded by the winner of French 'Pop Idol'.

In recent times Chris has been setting up independently, spending his time working between London and West Dorset. His most recent release was a track on the charity 'Help for Heroes' single 'We Will Remember Them'.

■ WHO are the biggest artists you've worked with?
The three biggest are Cher, Tina Turner and Lionel Richie. I've worked with a few other people as well. I played keyboards on an Enrique Iglesias track and I've worked with Belinda Carlisle and Kylie Minogue.

■ WHO were the nicest to work with?
Lionel Richie is really nice and down to earth. Kylie Minogue was really lovely as well. You tend to find the ones who have got the genuine talent are the nicest to work with, because they haven't got anything to prove. The ones who come through the door from fame school who've got too little talent and too much confidence are the ones who are difficult.

■ WHAT are the secrets to a perfect pop song?
It's got to have the standard pop song structure. It's like the old saying goes, 'Don't bore us, get to the chorus'. Also it has to be melodic, something you can imagine the postman whistling, something people can latch on to. Lyrically, if someone can really relate to a song, even if you misreading what the song is written about, that's what makes a really strong song.

■ ARE there any songwriters that inspire you?

All the writers involved in Motown, Burt Bacharach, Lennon and McCartney. It's not cool sometimes to say you like The Beatles but the bottom line is they were phenomenal writers and they did what they did and, no matter what anyone else does, they can never change that.

■ DO you think the digital age has ruined the music industry?

The industry is in a very bad state now because of all the illegal downloads. Kids don't see the value to music anymore. I've had a bit of a sabbatical recently but I think I got out at a time when the industry was starting to nose dive anyway. I've known so many people who used to make a living from writing and producing music and aren't anymore.

■ WHAT would be your top tip for getting into the music industry?

Never sign anything without some legal representation. If you're under the musician's union, it doesn't have to cost you a fortune to get. That's first and foremost, because it's not until five years down the line when you've signed a contract and you've learnt a bit down the industry that you realise you've been stitched up. It happens a lot.

■ WHAT do you make of TV talent shows?

They are ok, but to a certain extent they are killing music and making it much harder for new songwriters, as if it isn't hard enough already. Most of the shows are playing covers until you actually get the winner and they release an album, and even then they sometimes record songs from the old American songbook.

■ WHAT'S the one pop song you wished you'd written?

I play piano for weddings and events and I always ask people this question and they can never pinpoint one song. It's tough because there are loads but one song that was very innovative at the time was "When Doves Cry" by Prince.

Hospital campaign gains momentum

HEALTH care bosses went head-to-head with campaigners and residents during a heated debate about the future of Bridport Community Hospital.

More than 100 people packed into the WI Hall as momentum to save vital services at the hospital gathers pace.

The turnout confirmed the strength of feeling against Dorset County Hospital NHS Foundation Trust's proposal to pull radiography, outpatient and day surgery services out of Bridport.

The meeting, chaired by town and district councillor Ros Kayes, heard from Jean O'Callaghan, the chief executive at DCH, Frances Stevens from Primary Care Trust commissioners NHS Dorset, and West Dorset MP Oliver Letwin.

Lib Dem Councillor Kayes said the main purpose of the meeting was to show the strength of feeling and keep people informed.

She said: "By hook or by crook the people of Bridport want these services to stay in the current location."

But Mrs Stevens told the meeting: "We are not going to stand here and say services will be the same in Bridport Community Hospital, because we cannot say that."

Mrs O'Callaghan said they had to look at how they did things differently due to a cash shortfall.

She said: "We cannot go to the commissioners for more money because there is no more money. The commissioners are the people holding all the money in Dorset and they have to say what the needs of the population are and where to spend the money."

Eileen Harding and Dominic Knorpel represented the pressure group Community Health Campaign, which formed to object the proposals.

Mrs Harding warned the meeting that they needed to use Bridport's hospital fully because if the town lost the clinics it would lose a major part of the hospital.

Mr Knorpel, who had worked in the NHS for more than a decade, said when it came to people's health the town needed sound health care and sound management.

He said: "If I'm ill I don't want a choice, I want quality health care no matter what part of the country I live in."

Mr Letwin, whose father was once treated at Bridport Community Hospital, said the problem was one of money and the people with the money had to solve it.

He said: "I don't think the solution lies in DCH. The solution to the problem lies at the level of the Primary Care Trust, which is the body which has the money."

Police target noisy cars

NEW noise monitoring equipment is being piloted by Bridport Police in an effort to clamp down on anti social drivers.

The new equipment, which is currently used by ten different police forces countrywide, will be used to measure decibel levels emitted from car exhausts. If the noise levels exceed the legal limit the police will have the option to issue a £30 fixed penalty ticket to the driver.

Bridport Town Community Beat Officer, PC Mike Brown, said: "We take a large number of calls from the public in relation to anti social behaviour caused by vehicles. The major complaint made is the noise emitted by the vehicle. I was able to make a successful bid for this equipment and we should be using it by the end of this month."

"This will give us a great opportunity to tackle this issue and improve the quality of life for residents of Bridport, West Bay and Lyme Regis. The pilot will also be rolled out to the Dorchester area."

Christmas competition

SCHOOLCHILDREN are getting creative to design a Christmas card for Bridport.

Following the success of last year's painting competition, when over 100 local school children submitted entries, the Bridport Christmas Festival Steering Committee are now looking for a talented youngster to produce a 'Christmas card for Bridport'.

Once again sponsored by The Bull Hotel, the winner of this year's competition will receive a £50 prize, for them and their school.

The card will go on sale for the very first time at the 2011 Christmas Festival on Wednesday, December 7th from 6pm to 8.30pm, courtesy of Footeprints.

BUS SERVICE CHANGES

CHANGES to two bus services in Bridport came into effect this week to help combat late running journeys.

The changes will affect service 44 between Bridport and Bothenhampton and service 210 between Bridport, Shipton Gorge and Litton Cheney.

Both services are operated by Damory Coaches and are financially supported by Dorset County Council.

Following a number of issues surrounding the late running of journeys on service 44, the county council and Damory Coaches have identified problems with the route and timing of the service.

The service has been regularly delayed by congestion in and around Crock Lane and buses have been damaged trying to get through narrow sections of the road.

From November 14th, service 44 will be rerouted for the section of the journey between the Crown Roundabout and Walditch.

The bus will use Maple Gardens and Pasture Way to access Crock Lane and will no longer use Hol-low Lane or the top half of Crock Lane.

Traffic congestion in Bridport town centre has consistently caused delays to the last journey of the day to Bothenhampton.

As a result, this has been retimed and will now leave the Nationwide bus stop at 1:30pm.

As both the 44 and 210 services are operated by one vehicle, it has become necessary to retime the journeys on the 210 by five minutes.

The council and Damory Coaches hope that making these changes will ensure a more robust timetable and improve reliability for passengers.

For full timetable information on both services go to www.travelinesw.com or call 0871 200 22 33.

Bridport wine vying to rival the best

A BRIDPORT wine producer is hoping to rival it French counterparts with the release of its 2009 vintage.

The Furleigh Estate has released 14,000 bottles of its award winning Classic Cuvee 2009 sparkling wine, which recently took a top accolade in the South West Vineyards Association 2011 Awards.

Rebecca Hansford of the Furleigh Estate said: "We believe this wine can rival the leading French vineyards. What we would appreciate is feedback from those that have tried it."

Council to offer Torch Relay grants

CASH grants are up for grabs for Bridport and the surrounding villages who wish to celebrate the Olympic Torch Relay and the Queen's Diamond Jubilee next year.

A sum of £10,000 has been set aside from the West Dorset District Council's Leisure Development Fund - £5,000 for each event - to help town and parish councils celebrate the Olympic Torch Relay when it comes to West Dorset on July 12th and 13th 2012 and the Diamond Jubilee on June 2nd and 3rd 2012.

Town and parish councils in Bridport, Chideock, Burton Bradstock and Abbotsbury can apply for the Olympic Torch Relay grant to help support community celebrations, as the torch will pass through each of these communities. The maximum grant that each town council can apply for is £550 while parish councils can apply for £400.

West Dorset District Council Leader Robert Gould said: "We expect many communities in West Dorset will want to celebrate the Torch Relay. The district council is happy to be able to support this once in a lifetime celebration by giving money to the communities which are fortunate enough to have the iconic torch pass through their towns and parishes".

Funding for the Diamond Jubilee celebrations can be spent on display material, entertainment, artists costs and equipment hire. The maximum grant that each town or parish council can apply for is £250.

Applications for both grants must be submitted by March 1st 2012 and applicants will be notified of the decision in early April 2012.

For more information about applying contact the West Dorset District Council Leisure and Tourism Team on 01305 252250 or email leisure@westdorset-weymouth.gov.uk

Letwin broke the law

WEST Dorset MP Oliver Letwin broke the law when he dumped sensitive official documents in a park bin, a watchdog has found.

The Information Commissioner Christopher Graham issued a stern warning to him.

He told Mr Letwin that if he carelessly throws away letters in future he faces formal enforcement action.

Mr Letwin has now signed a written commitment pledging to dispose of his files in a secure manner.

Mr Graham said: "Constituents entrust their Member of Parliament with all sorts of personal information and should never expect the details of the concerns they've raised in confidence to end up in a park bin for anyone to see."

"It is clear that Mr Letwin has learned from this incident and we're pleased that he has co-operated fully."

"It is fortunate that most of the information he discarded was not of a particularly sensitive nature and was therefore unlikely to cause substantial distress to his constituents."

A spokesman for the Cabinet office Minister said: "Mr Letwin has signed an undertaking with the Information Commissioner's Office and will dispose of documents containing personal data in a secure manner. He has apologised to affected constituents."

But Mr Graham warned him not to dump any more sensitive documents.

"If we receive any further reports or complaints about Mr Letwin's conduct in this area then we will consider taking more formal action."

"I'm sure this case will also prompt other MPs to review their handling of personal data to ensure they're doing all they can to keep it secure."

Mr Letwin apologised last month after it emerged he had disposed of papers in a bin at St James's Park, near Downing Street, on five separate occasions.

He was photographed by the Daily Mirror, which claimed he had dumped more than 100 papers dating from July 2010 to September 2011, including documents containing constituents' private details and five Intelligence and Security Committee (ISC) letters.

Labour MPs immediately called for an investigation into whether Mr Letwin's behaviour may have compromised national security.

But the Cabinet Office said Sir Gus O'Donnell, the head of the civil service, had spoken to Mr Letwin about the claims and he had been given a "personal assurance" that this was not the case.

"The cabinet secretary has looked into this and is content that no classified government documents were disposed of in this way," a spokeswoman for the department said.

Mr Letwin said he had been used to dealing with correspondence in St James's Park early in the morning before going to his office but maintained no sensitive documents had been involved. He has apologised to constituents who felt offended by his actions.

No 10 has said Mr Letwin's actions were "not sensible" and he would not be repeating them.

Thanksgiving for Pauline

A THANKSGIVING service has been held at Bridport Community Hospital in memory of a much-loved Outpatients Nurse who lost her battle with cancer earlier this year.

The small service, led by Reverend Philip Ringer, gave friends and family a chance to remember Pauline Wykes.

During the service, Reverend Ringer, also blessed a small bronze statue of a child (pictured below), which has been placed in the hospital garden in Pauline's memory.

Pauline's family and friends would like to thank everyone who has helped at the various fundraising events giving time and very generous donations towards her memorial.

The remaining money will be put towards the purchase of a spirometer for the Outpatient's Department, which helps in the diagnosing and treatment of respiratory disorders, in which Pauline was always very interested.

Social group enjoys 'A Day at the Races'

HORSE RACING came to Bridport Community Hospital this month as the Weldmar Hospicecare Social Group celebrated their 22nd anniversary.

Members of the group dressed in style, wearing their best hats and buttonhole flowers, for the 'Day at the Races'.

Despite the winter weather outside there was no need for coats and umbrella for the group, as the racing came to them at the hospital.

A set of handmade horses was bought into the hospital with races staged specially for the group, who soon got into the spirit of things by cheering on their favourite jockey. Social group leader Lyn Goward said: "The club is great opportunity for these people to get together to have fun and have a chat with each other."

"It's great to see everyone laughing and having a good time. Everyone always tells me what a good time they have and that they wouldn't miss it for the world."

The group, for people with cancer and other life limiting conditions, meet every Thursday.

For more information contact Lyn Goward on 01308 488272.

Bridport remembers its fallen heroes

A RECORD turnout lined the streets of Bridport and packed into St Mary's Church to pay their respects to the fallen on Remembrance Sunday.

President of the Royal British Legion's Bridport Branch, Captain Fido Vivian May, once again took his place as Parade Commander.

Commander Support Paul Fowler escorted him to the war memorial; a fellow retired servicemen of the Queen's Royal Lancers.

Retired and serving armed service personnel, from conflicts past and present, were represented in force with members of the Royal British Legion, Devonshire and Dorset Regiment Association, Royal Naval Association and the Royal Air Force Association.

The Rifles, who were given the freedom of the town earlier this year, also featured in the parade carrying the Bridport Standard for the first time.

The cadet forces of sea, land and air, represented youth groups in the parade, alongside Guides, Brownies, Scouts, Cubs, St John Ambulance Cadets and Badgers.

Mayor Councillor Dave Rickard led town council representatives in the parade and the emergency services were also represented.

The St Swithun's Band were unable to march so played from a seated position in Bucky Doo square as the parade passed.

After the parade had marched from East Street to the war memorial at St Mary's Church, the assembled group were guided into position, with the many standard bearers at the front.

by Tom Glover

Parade Commander Captain Vivian May praised the "record turnout" before leading the service at the war memorial outside St Mary's Church.

The service began with a two minutes silence, signalled with a blast of a canon and ended with The Last Post, played by Bugler David Tozer, of the St Swithun's Band.

The RBL Exhortation was then recited by Captain Vivian May and a Burma Star representative offered the Kohima Epitaph, before Reverend Janis Moore concluded the ceremony.

Mayor Councillor Dave Rickard then began the laying of the wreaths at the war memorial, followed by a number of representatives from armed service personnel, youth groups and other organisations.

The church service then followed in St Mary's Church before the civic party proceeded to the saluting base on Bucky Doo Square.

Mayor Councillor Dave Rickard, said: "The Remembrance Parade was very well supported indeed with a large number of people on the parade and paying their respects at the memorial and attending the service afterwards.

"On behalf of the town council, I would like to thank all those involved in organising the day and particularly the Parade Commander, Fido Vivian May."

THE Remembrance Day two minutes silence was observed as part of a special service in Bucky Doo Square this year.

The Mayor of Bridport, Councillor Dave Rickard, invited residents of the town to join him on the Arts Centre Forecourt for the two minutes silence on Remembrance Day last Friday.

Before the silence, Mayor Councillor Rickard spoke about a recent project by local artist Cleo Evans to mark the tenth anniversary of 9/11.

The artist had a composition of John Lennon's

'Imagine' played on the bells of Exeter Cathedral, as part of a multi-faith social art project encouraging reflection upon religious tolerance.

A recording of the performance was played to the gathered crowd following the two minutes silence last Friday.

Before the silence, Mayor Councillor Rickard also recited the poem 'Courage'.

As usual, many residents also choose to pay their respects at the war memorial outside St Mary's Church for the two minutes silence.

REAL ALE and cider fans are in for a treat when The Tiger Inn's Beer Festival returns this week.

The festival, focusing on locally brewed ales, begins tomorrow (Thursday, November 17th) and will run until Sunday.

The pub will be offering a range of different ales throughout the four-day festival, with 16 available at any one time at a price of £2.50 a pint.

Landlord Graham Taylor said he has always been keen on bringing a selection of ales from the region and area to his customers with particular emphasis on those from independent and micro breweries.

Among the carefully chosen selection will be beers from Hop Back, Otter, Branscombe, and Palmers along with a variety of local micro breweries. There will also be ciders from Westons and Mr Whitehead, among others.

Graham said: "We are always pleased to be able to offer our customers a selection of the finest ales from the region and this year, once again, we hope to introduce them to many that may well soon become firm favourites."

Affordable housing conference set for Bridport this month

AFFORDABLE housing will be the subject of a half-day conference to be held in Bridport later this month.

Average house prices in Dorset are among the highest in the UK, despite higher than average house-building rates, while average earnings are among the lowest.

The aim of the seminar, which is being jointly put on by the Bridport Local Area Partnership (BLAP) and the Bridport Area Development Trust, with funding support from the West Dorset Partnership, is to explore the issues behind the problem and to come up with recommendations for solutions to the problem of affordability for local people.

Speakers will include representatives from the local housing and local planning authorities, West Dorset District Council, Dorset County Council, and from local housing associations.

The seminar will also focus on the potential role of Community Land Trusts in the delivery of affordable housing.

The seminar will be chaired by Richard Nicholls, chairman of the BLAP working group on affordable housing.

He said: "The shortage of affordable housing is particularly serious in the South West. With rising unemployment and benefits slashed, the issue will become even more acute for both young couples and single people over the coming months.

"Also with rents in the private sector looking to rise, many elderly people in rented accommodation could be under threat.

"Given that in the South West the average home costs 13 times the average local income, it is important that we think about new approaches to the problem.

"With this in mind, BLAP has organised this seminar to allow not only those directly involved in the housing market to put forward possible solutions, but to hear the views of local people, especially the young, who I hope will register to attend."

The seminar will be held at Bridport Arts Centre on Tuesday, November 29th, from 9:30am till 1pm.

Entry is free, but attendance is by registration in advance. Contact Tessa Greenaway at Bridport Town Council office on 01308 456722, or email to t.greenaway@bridport-tc.gov.uk to book. Places will be allocated on a first-come, first-served basis.

Chorus of bids for china frogs

FROG CHORUS | The rare set of majolica frogs made £4,000 at auction

Special concert will celebrate West Dorset

TWO years ago an album of songs - Turn Towards Me - celebrating our beautiful corner of Dorset was recorded in Bridport. Some tunes were self-penned and some from a book of poetry written by Burton Bradstock resident, Douglas Northover.

Douglas spent much of his life in Dorset's Bride Valley and, through his poetry, brought his love of the place and people to life.

After his death, a copy of his poems was presented to David Powell, then headteacher of Burton Bradstock School.

David and young friends Rosi Brewster and Emma Batchelor put some to music, performing them in Bridport and the Bride Valley. The concerts were very well received and the band, including teacher, Simon Douglas were invited to perform them at Sidmouth Folk Festival.

Rosi and Emma will be home from university over Christmas and they and David will bring these and other songs celebrating the importance of home and family to a special concert at Bridport's WI Hall on the afternoon of Friday, December 30th from 3pm.

All profits from the concert will go towards supporting the work of Home-Start West Dorset - a local charity which gives friendship, advice and practical support to families who live in the West Dorset District Council area. Tickets at £5 each are available by calling 01308 897389 or in person from Bridport Music.

■ A SET of majolica china frogs discovered in a box of crockery at a house clearance sold for £4,000 at The Auction House's monthly sale in Bridport.

The group of frogs, modelled as travelling musicians, proved a huge hit with buyers attracting international interest.

On the day the bidding proved fast and furious with many calls from the floor, several previously placed commission bids and three telephone bidders, one calling from his bed in the USA. Eventually the hammer went down at £4,000 to a British collector.

The set was discovered in a box of assorted crockery by a couple from Bournemouth who were clearing the house of an aunt.

Mike Dark of The Auction House said: "There are many keen collectors of majolica these days and the opportunities to acquire a set like this is fairly rare".

■ I HAVE a question - why does the clock on the right hand wall in the Electric Palace auditorium show the time of 9.05pm?

It is starting to annoy me every time I go, which is quite regularly. Is there some significance to that time? Or is it down to someone not bothering to fix it? Or is it lack of finances? Has anyone got the answer please.

Nature theme for kids' holiday workshops

THE first WildChild Holiday workshops were held at Thorners Primary School during half term - helping children become one with nature.

The WildChild environmental workshops are being run to help families develop a deeper understanding of the countryside and take a more sustainable approach to life.

The workshops are open to all and form an ongoing part of the schools sustainability plan for their outdoor learning and wildlife classroom, the Discovery Area.

The first WildChild workshop was run by Dorset Forest Schools, who offered a spooky autumnal workshop for the under sevens. Families were able to let their imaginations run wild on an eco adventure with spider making, web catching, luscious potions and story telling with local puppeteer Kathy Kelly.

Children went home laden with natural hand made treasures, stories of autumn and lashings of roasted marshmallows on the fire.

Peter Margerum and Ruth Worsely led the second workshop, "Log A Rhythms", this time for the older children.

Children went on a hunt around the school's discovery area, collecting treasures to make into artistic and musical creations with the help of a few screws, nuts and bolts.

Children ended the day's fun in a rhythmic celebration of music, masks and headdresses. Ruth and Peter hope to help develop the creativity of the area with more workshops and environmental sculpture opportunities in the future.

Discovery Area Volunteer, Martin Bell, said: "It is great to have the wonderful creative support from Maddy, Peter and Ruth in our school's outdoor learning area and community workshops and we hope for them all to be more and more involved in our projects in the future."

FLYING THE FLAG
Licensees of The New Inn in Shipton Gorge, Gary Pellow and Sandra Tyson, with the Union Jack flag that has been flying above their pub since April

Flag retired in preparation for Jamie's return

THE proud parents of a Rifles Regiment Corporal have lowered the flag that has flown above their pub in Shipton Gorge since April - after their son returned from Afghanistan.

Licensees of The New Inn in Shipton Gorge, Gary Pellow and Sandra Tyson, have been flying the same Union Jack flag above the entrance to their pub since April 7th this year.

On that date, Rifles Regiment First Battalion Corporal Jamie Tyson, Sandra's eldest son, left for his first tour of Afghanistan.

Corporal Tyson and his fellow First Battalion comrades, formerly known as the Devonshire and Dorset Regiment, were due to march through Bridport earlier this year when they awarded the Freedom of the Town in a special ceremony.

Unfortunately the regiment were unable to attend on the day as they were preparing for their tour of Afghanistan.

Corporal Tyson grew up on Portland and attended the Royal Manor School, his mother Sandra and stepfather Gary have been mine hosts of The New Inn since it reopened in 2006.

The flag they have flown above the pub since their son's departure was taken down upon his return and will be presented to him at his homecoming parade in Chepstow tomorrow (Thursday).

Gary said: "The flag was like a talisman for us while Jamie was away and in our letters to him we mentioned it so that it gave some connection to them while they were so far away.

"We were very pleased that he came home unharmed and we are very happy to be able to take this flag down now and take it up to him for his parade on Thursday.

"I think he will be a bit shocked to see it actually, it's looked a bit tatty for a while now but the important thing was to keep it flying while he was away.

"Some of our regulars talked about it and there were discussions of replacing it but we said no, it worked, we'll keep the same one. It does look tatty but it's done its job."

Literary festival hailed big success

FESTIVAL FUN | Poet Christopher Reid with Kitson and Trotman partners Tracy Scammel and Richard King at their Bridport offices

ORGANISERS have hailed this year's Bridport Literary Festival as the best ever after a week of events for all tastes.

The programme of events included speakers on subjects as diverse as Afghanistan, Edward Burne-Jones, the Last Pre-Raphaelite, Mervyn Peake, Wild Flowers, The Gentry, Charles Dickens and the Eden Project.

Organisers revealed that most events had sold out and initial feedback had been excellent.

The festival also included lots of poetry and major sponsors Kitson and Trotman, local solicitors, hosted an evening with the award-winning poet Christopher Reid reading his own poems.

An additional special event, featuring Alan Titchmarsh in conversation with Susanna Simons about his new novel, will round off the festival at the Electric Palace on Tuesday, November 22nd at 12noon.

Pre-booked tickets for the event, sponsored by Groves Nurseries, can be obtained from the Bridport Tourist Information Centre in South Street on 01308 424901.

Campaign asks food shoppers to 'Spend Less and Eat Better'

A NEW campaign encouraging shoppers to buy local food has been launched by Transition Town Bridport this week.

The 'Spend Less and Eat Better' initiative has been launched following a survey of prices and quality of vegetables and fruit available within walking distance of Bridport's Bucky Doo Square.

The survey group visited three small retailers - Fruits of the Earth, Bridget's Market and Nina's - and three market stalls which sell vegetables on Wednesdays and Saturdays, and compared the produce with what is available from five supermarkets in town.

Speaking on behalf of TTB, Sarah Wilberforce said: "In terms of price, there was little to choose between them, with the local retailers coming second and third place out of eleven. Clearly small shops and stalls are competitively priced.

by Tom Glover

"More significantly, many of the vegetables in the supermarkets had travelled many food-miles to reach Bridport, and were consequently less fresh."

The most extreme example that TTB found was one supermarket selling organic apples from New Zealand.

Caroline Parking, of Leaker's Bakery, said: "It is shocking that supermarkets are buying organic apples from New Zealand, in October, when we have Elwell's just down the road, great quality, fresh, with the minimum of chemicals, and on our doorstep".

The survey found that almost all of the fruit and vegetables in the small local shops, and all the stall produce, was organic and produced without chemicals and using limited energy resources.

Sarah Wilberforce added: "We are very lucky to have such a diverse and robust range of independent shops and market stalls.

"Considering the local retailers have less packaging and are mostly organically grown, the cost difference between them and the supermarkets is not so great.

"Add on the long and oil dependent supply chains of these giant retailers, and it makes even less sense to depend on the supermarkets for our fruit and veg."

The next meeting of TTB food group will be at The Tiger Inn, Barrack Street on Thursday, November 17th at 7.30pm.

More information may be obtained through the website www.transitiontownbridport.co.uk

'Spend Less and Eat Better'

THE Transition Town Bridport campaign says we should support local grocers because:

- There are far less food miles on seasonal local produce;
- Supporting local businesses makes Bridport stronger and increases employment;
- You know where the food is grown and how the soil is treated, giving transparency to the food suppliers;
- You get to know the shops' owners and build up a trusting relationship with them;
- You buy as much as you need, avoiding 'two for the price of one' offers and wasted food;
- You learn how to cook, becoming self sufficient;
- You spend less money and avoid the enormous carbon footprint of imported and processed food.

Community lunch next Wednesday

MEMBERS of local voluntary and community groups are being invited to a winter community lunch next week.

The quarterly lunch will be followed by a Safe And Independent Living (SAIL) information event, led by Dorset Partnership for Older People (POPP) programme manager, Sue Warr.

The winter community lunch will be held at 12:30 pm on Wednesday, November 23rd at the Bridport

United Church Hall. The informal quarterly bring-and-share lunch gives members of local voluntary and community groups and charities in Bridport and the surrounding area a chance to meet, chat and share ideas, expertise and information.

The SAIL event, which follows, will run from 2pm and will give people the opportunity to find out more about the work they do with older people.

Bluebird Care Weymouth and West Dorset have staff available for care at home visits

BLUEBIRD Care Weymouth and West Dorset is pleased to announce the availability of their dedicated care worker team to provide quality care at home visits to those wishing to remain within the comfort of their own homes.

At Bluebird Care we seek to recruit only the very best staff and once we have recruited them, to assist them in becoming even better. We aim to provide a programme of training that is second to none and that allows our staff to develop a wide-portfolio of skills to match our customer's individual needs. We believe that this investment pays dividends in terms of the service provided to our customers, ensuring not only quality but also consistency.

At Bluebird Care we pride ourselves on our 'good, old-fashioned service" and we do not believe in taking a compromising approach.

We aim for every care visit to fall nothing short of the standard of care we would expect for our own family members or loved ones. We always seek to assist our customers in remaining as independent as possible and our care workers would always chose to do things "with" our customers rather than do things "to" them. We believe that everybody deserves to get the most out of life that circumstances allow and our mission is to help our customers achieve this.

Our care workers deliver a package of visits agreed with each individual customer to meet their particular needs. Flexibility is key and with visit times ranging from fifteen minutes right up to twenty-four hour live-in care and assistance with everything from personal care to laundry or shopping, cleaning or meal preparation, we can provide as much or as little as is required. To find out more about the full range of Bluebird Care services, visit us at www.bluebird-care.co.uk/weymouth or call us on 01305 230770.

Burton Bradstock does its bit

THE villagers of Burton Bradstock turned out in force to support the Royal British Legion Bride Valley branch's Poppy Appeal coffee morning.

There wasn't a spare seat in the village hall as residents young and old came out to enjoy a cup of coffee and homemade cake at the event on Thursday of last week.

As well as selling refreshments volunteers also manned a raffle and a bric-a-brac stall to help the fundraising effort.

Organisers hope that it will be another record breaking year for fundraising, no doubt helped by a donation of £1,000 from the Bridport Lions.

Bridport Lion, John Lay-Flurrie, presented Poppy Appeal organiser Tony Combe with a cheque on the day.

Mr Combe is now standing down as Poppy Appeal organiser after six years in the role. He thanked the Bridport Lions for their donation and the Burton Bradstock public for their support over the years.

"The donation from the Lions is a big boost to the local Poppy Appeal which is obviously greatly appreciated, especially at this time with our servicemen in Afghanistan," he said.

"This is the sixth year I have done this and each year I have managed to increase the amount and hopefully this will be a record year.

"I've enjoyed doing it and I firmly believe in what it's all about."

At the coffee morning there was also a display of Remembrance Day posters designed by children from the Burton Bradstock Primary School.

Certificates were presented to the top four posters in the year five and year six classes of the school.

Mr Combe added: "It's extremely important that these kids get involved at a young age.

"My generation knows the importance of Remembrance Day because we were brought up during the war but it tends to be forgotten by the younger generations, hopefully these children won't forget. We always have a good turnout, this village is always very good on things like this and they haven't let us down."

Record attendance for Society of Dorset Men dinner

"Dorset grabs you by the soul - a beautiful place with a great history," Councillor Angus Campbell, Leader of Dorset County Council, told the County Dinner of The Society of Dorset Men.

"Some people come to Dorset to die, then forget what they came for," he joked.

"This county's great character has been moulded by its long and distinguished history."

Held for the first time at the George Albert Hotel on Wardon Hill, near Evershot, a record 280 members and their wives attended the event, the first to be presided over by Baron Fellowes of West Stafford DL, elected President of the Society of

by Stuart Broom

Dorset Men in April.

Following the loyal toast, the new president read the letter from Buckingham Palace - "The Queen was most pleased to receive your greetings and Her Majesty most appreciates your message to her."

"The Queen sends best wishes to all present for a most pleasant and memorable event."

Sir Anthony Jolliffe GBE DL DSc DMus was president for an unparalleled 27 years, the longest serving president in the society's 107-year history.

Chairman Stuart Adam paid fulsome tribute to Sir Anthony's work for the Society: "It is widely thought that the fortunes and profile of the Society changed for the better when Sir Anthony became Lord Mayor of London in 1982 and we thank him most sincerely for all he has achieved for us."

Lord Fellowes presented an inscribed Mont Blanc fountain pen and a framed citation to Sir Anthony to prolong applause and cheering from the assembled members.

"I am proud to have been born a Dorset man, in Wyke Regis and now live half a mile from where I was born," Sir Anthony told the County Dinner.

"I will always support the county, our society and the people of Dorset.

"I much enjoyed my 27 years as your president and delighted that Baron Fellowes of West Stafford agreed to take on this vital role."

Pat Russell then presented a bouquet to Lady Georgina Jolliffe.

Honoured guests of the new president included Alan Frost DL FIA (HM High Sheriff of Dorset), Commander Mike Knott RN (Captain of HMS Portland), Captain Michael Fulford-Dobson RN CVO OBE KSJ JP DL (former Lord Lieutenant of Dorset) and Adrian Scott (former High Sheriff of Dorset).

Guest speaker and Deputy President James Weld said the Welds came to Dorset in 1641, three and a half centuries ago. He talked of the history of Lulworth and the Weld family.

"Dorset has so much to commend it," he declared.

Colonel David Hayes CBE, Colonel of the Gurkha Regiment, thanked Blandford Camp for being such a fantastic host to the Gurkha signallers.

He outlined many links between the Gurkhas and Dorset.

Finally, he congratulated screenwriter Lord Fellowes on the "triumph of his inspired ITV series Downton Abbey."

The Bryan Challis Challenge Cup was presented to chairman Stuart Adam, for recruiting the most new members in the past year.

Ian Morton received the Hambro Golf Cup from the president, having won the society's summer golf tournament.

Rev Dr John Travell FRSA said Grace at the beginning of the dinner. David Read was toastmaster.

As is the long custom of the Society of Dorset Men, members stood to welcome and acclaim the Dorset Blue Vinny cheese, which was carried through the dining room by chef John Newberry to Lord Fellowes, who pronounced it delicious and fit to eat!

This venerable and annual tradition dates from the very early days of the society, which was founded in 1904, when the Dorset Blue Vinny cheese would be honoured in the same way as Scots venerate the haggis.

It is always served with Dorset watercress and Dorset Knobs as the final course.

Finally, Baron Fellowes of West Stafford praised Roy Adams, chairman of the society for many years, whose infectious enthusiasm for Dorset had been imparted to the new president.

He thanked Sir Anthony Jolliffe for his leadership and warmth and added: "I am proud to think of myself as a Dorset man."

THANK YOU

Pineapple Business Park expansion - a welcome boost to the local economy...

Pineapple Business Park, located in idyllic rural location on the outskirts of Bridport in Salway Ash, are midway through expansion of their commercial property portfolio to incorporate a brand new, 3,000 sq ft, state-of-the-art modern office space for one of their existing tenants, TaxHelp for Older People (T.O.P). T.O.P. have extended their enterprises to such an extent that they have outgrown their current offices and are eagerly looking forward to relocating within the Pineapple Business Park to their new offices by Christmas.

Carol Pavely - Tax Help for Older People - Operations Director said "We have been based at Pineapple Business Park since 2004 and as the charity has grown we have set Andrew, Yvonne and their Team many challenges over the years. Their friendly and flexible approach to estate management has allowed us to expand from one unit to meet our needs without the necessity to search for new premises, and now we are moving into the new building on the Business Park that has been developed with us in mind and which we hope will allow us to stay here for many more years to come".

The expansion will be a much needed boost to the local community. This brings their current 450sq ft and 1,350 sq ft offices on to the rental market; offering other businesses the opportunity to enjoy working from the highly popular and award winning Pineapple Business Park, with the benefit of ample parking - all within three miles from Bridport Town Centre.

Tom Worboys, MRICS-Project Surveyor and head of Pineapple Rural Consultancy has overseen the development, engaging with other local professionals and contracting MAC Builders for the construction. Pineapple as a Group is committed to renewable energy with all its electricity currently purchased from renewable sources. And is about to turn on its own solar PV array which will provide approximately 50% of the Pineapple Business

Park's electricity needs. Pineapple Business Park is pleased to announce that they are currently in negotiations with Avanti Communications to trial satellite broadband which would enhance the current broadband facilities on Pineapple Business Park.

MAC Building Contractors Ltd

MAC BUILDING CONTRACTORS are based in Bridport covering west Dorset, south Somerset and east Devon.

The Managing Director of Mac Building Contractors is Tim Macdonald who started out as a local carpenter based in Bridport. Since then the company has grown significantly offering private and commercial clients a large range of building and maintenance services. This year Tim and his talented team celebrate 25 years of trading.

The success is thanks to the quality of their work that brings both repeat business and many recommendations. They work on private new builds, extensions, all roofing issues and renovations, as well as large commercial projects such as new units on the local Pineapple Business Park where they are the main contractors.

The business expanded in 2009 to include a new, larger workshop for their purpose made joinery. This makes them experts in their field for made-to-measure windows, doors and bespoke pieces in soft wood and hard wood including oak. These skills are well suited to work on listed building and renovation projects, an area in which they have a wealth of experience.

New of this year is an in-house plumbing and heating service, which caters for all types of work, and is Gas Safe registered.

Mac Building Contractors offer the complete service with outstanding craftsmanship and good old fashioned customer service. They look forward to the next 25 years serving private and business clients across the surrounding area, catering for any job no matter the size. They would like to thank all of their customers for their continued support and wish Andrew and Yvonne from Pineapple Business Park all the best in their venture, and hope to continue their great working relationship with them.

jhai Building

PINEAPPLE Rural Consultancy used Approved Inspector jhai limited to carry out Building Regulations Approval at Unit

10 Pineapple Business Park. jhai limited is the local alternative to using the council for Building Control and the company prides itself on a helpful, proactive approach.

Project Manager Tom Worboys was impressed with the advice received: "the sloping site looked like giving us some access problems but jhai sorted out a compliant solution that was both neater and more cost effective."

Tim Macdonald of main contractor Mac Contractors Ltd was also pleased with the service: "jhai have been quick to respond, giving knowledgeable and practical answers to issues arising on site."

Jhai have experience of all types of construction including sustainable techniques such as those used in the zero carbon Eco Home (pictured) which was recently featured on 'Grand Designs'.

Binocular and Telescope Demonstration Days at RSPB Radipole Lake, Weymouth Sat 10th & Sun 11th December 10am—3pm

Are you looking for a new pair of binoculars or a new telescope?

With so much exciting wildlife in Dorset, and the Olympics on their way this is the perfect time to upgrade your old equipment.

We have the best selection of binoculars and telescopes in West Dorset, and over the weekend of 10th/11th December we will be holding an optics demonstration event, when there will be an even wider range for you to try before you buy.

If you can't make the demo days, then remember we are open 7 days a week, with friendly staff on hand to guide you through the range.

With prices to suit all budgets, and all the profits going back into conservation it makes sense to buy from the RSPB.

'YARD, A shop filled from top to bottom with sheer gorgeousness'

YARD is a breath of fresh air and a refreshing change from the High Street. It is for woman who love clothes, have great style and like an individual look. The store promotes an attitude of fashion that is suitable for everyone. This is reflected through the collections individually picked by owner Vicki Fernyhough, featuring respected fashion labels such as Twist and Tango, Maison Scotch, American Vintage, Amazing Woman and Great Plains. Whether you are shopping for a gorgeous outfit, for a special occasion or the perfect pair of jeans you'll wear and wear, Yard has got it.

The team at Yard make your shopping experience easy and uniquely personal. If you want to simply browse you will find it relaxed and unintrusive, or if you want an honest opinion they are on hand to guide you into the best fashion choices. You can even benefit from a wonderful personal shopping experience where Vicki or one of her team will style you in the clothes that suit you best.

New for this season, an exclusive footwear area which features the label J Shoes. As well as fabulous clothing and shoes, you will find a gorgeous range of accessories including jewellery, belts and beautiful Italian leather bags from French company Nat and Nin. Also available at Yard is a range of home accessories and gifts that make it a true lifestyle experience.

For a relaxing and rewarding shopping treat in a luxurious but relaxed environment, visit Yard in Poundbury.

Keeping you warm and cosy this winter

THE fireplace and stove centre in Dorchester is a family run business established in 1999. We have grown not only in size but in reputation and have become one of Dorset's premier fireplace and stove retailers.

A small but extensive showroom allows you to view many of the fireplaces most of which include a live gas or electric fire. We have fireplaces in stone, marble and wood as well as are a wide selection of live wood and multi fuel stoves where you can experience the warmth of a real fire.

With our friendly advice we aim to help you choose the right fireplace or stove; turning your house in to a home. We are pleased to offer a free and no obligation site survey by one of our recommended fully registered installers for further advice.

From traditional to contemporary, gas, electric or solid fuel; why not visit our showroom where you can be assured of a warm welcome."

Get proper legal advice

MOST of us will need expert legal help at some time in our lives. Some of the most common issues are to do with buying a house, getting a divorce or making a will. But you might also need help if you are suffering from an injury which was not your fault, starting your own business, have contract of employment issues, etc. Whatever the reason, with the laws changing all the time it is important that you get the best professional advice you can, as early as you can. Finding the right solicitor and one you feel comfortable with, will make all the difference.

Nantes Solicitors has launched 'Open Wednesdays in Dorchester' to give FREE 15 minutes no obligation legal advice on everything from family and property issues, litigation or personal injury claims to the full spectrum of business and employment matters. Anybody passing their office in Antelope Walk on a Wednesday afternoon can just pop in to discuss any legal issue that is worrying them.

Said Nantes Dorchester based Solicitor, Siân Merriott:

"Those who pop in will benefit from an exchange of 15 minutes or so with a practising lawyer who has the knowledge and expertise to provide clear and easy to understand answers. The 15 minutes will give them a better idea of what they might want to do about their problem as well as a chance to get to know us at Nantes as individuals. So if you're looking for some pointers on how to tackle a business or personal problem but don't know where to begin, or are hesitant about approaching a law firm, do come and see us on a Wednesday afternoon... we're here to help!"

Dorset's premier quality fireplace design company

Stone's Fireplaces is a family run business established in 1876, and Dorset's premier fireplace design company. They can accommodate the needs of all homeowners, and are experts in installation in listed buildings, farmhouses and cottages.

Stone's Fireplaces is a traditional company and is dedicated to offering first class service. They specialise in the supply and installation of wood-burning and multifuel stoves, gas fires and fireplaces. Stone's Masonry division create and manufacture beautiful bespoke natural stone fireplaces. All work is carried out by their own in-house expert team of installers.

A new addition to their professional services is Stone's Chimney Solutions, which is a full chimney sweeping and maintenance service. The aim is to ensure their clients are safe, using their fires and stoves correctly, using the correct fuels and maintaining their investment. Stone's work to the highest standards and are approved HETAS engineers and members of NACS (National Association of Chimney Sweeps). This is all important as most insurance companies will no longer pay out for claims unless there is evidence that the chimney has been professionally swept and a valid and current certificate of sweeping has been issued.

Call Stone's today for a quality and professional service that you will be happy to recommend to friends.

A wise choice for fun and educational play!

WISE OWL Toys is family-run by David and Lesley James. It is an independent toyshop which places customer service and expert knowledge as their main priority. They seek to offer different, inspiring and fun toys and games that also have an educational bias.

Last year this Dorchester shop won the UK award for their window display of Schleich products and are currently showing the Heroes range for this year's competition.

The Playmobil selection includes the new Secret Agents and Holiday Fun ranges whilst Sylvanian Families have loads of new ideas for you to add to your collection.

Craft and Scientific based toys continue to be very popular with all ages and there are a wide selection to choose from this Christmas.

David and Lesley look forward to welcoming children, parents and grandparents to their wonderful shop in Hardy's Arcade, Dorchester, to view the wide range on display.

In need of some inspiration for your home this Christmas?

INSPIRED HOME Improvements Ltd has a large and lovely showroom at the west end of Dorchester, right on the banks of the River Frome. Here you will be able to find friendly staff who will be happy to show you the great products that are available for your home. The showroom is furnished with modern and traditional furniture from The Cozy Bay range which is suitable for both indoor and outdoor use as it is wonderfully weatherproof. As Christmas approaches you may find the need for extra dining space and we certainly have different options for you to consider.

When you visit us we can show you examples of the doors and windows that are available to you and we have several designs of conservatories on site. Keeping fuel bills low and securing the home is a real concern for every householder, and the quality products that Inspired use can give you peace of mind that you have chosen well. We always endeavour to answer questions honestly and fully so please, call in and have a chat.

We offer free onsite consultations, free quotations and a relaxed but helpful service. The showroom is open from 9am to 5pm Monday to Friday. Should you require an evening or weekend appointment, please ring 01305 268440 and we will be happy to make arrangements to meet with you.

And so, should you be on your way to Scats, Dorchester Timber or Loopy Loo's, why not call in to us first? We think you'll be pleasantly surprised at what you'll find – and hopefully inspired!

Don't put off having that beautiful new kitchen

TIMES are tough but that doesn't mean you have to put off having that beautiful new kitchen you've been promising yourself. A kitchen facelift could be the answer.

By replacing the doors, drawers, and if chosen new worktops, appliances and accessories such as plinths, cornice and pelmet a completely new kitchen can be achieved.

Refurbishing your kitchen, rather than replacing it, is a much more cost-effective option. You get the kitchen of your dreams for a fraction of the price. But counting the pennies doesn't mean you have to compromise on quality. Price is important but it's not the only factor, good service and quality products still count.

Whether it's a simple door swap, a more extensive facelift or a complete replacement kitchen, Dream Doors offers the same personal local service, backed up by a national brand, and delivering a top quality product.

We offer a FREE, NO OBLIGATION home visit to survey your kitchen, visit our showroom at 5 Damers Road, Dorchester or call 01305 268003 today.

Renowned organist to play Lyme's Skrabl

DORSET based organist Margaret Phillips will play the Skrabl organ at St. Michael's Lyme Regis this Friday (November 18th) in a recital for the organ appeal fund.

Regarded as one of Britain's most outstanding concert organists and teachers, Margaret Phillips studied with the late Ralph Downes and with Marie-Claire Alain. Since 1996 she has been Professor of Organ at the Royal College of Music in London, and she is also much in demand throughout the UK and abroad as recitalist, teacher, masterclass tutor and international jury member. Her CDs, which include the complete organ works of Mendelssohn, Saint-Saëns and Stanley, have been highly praised; she is currently well into a project to record the complete organ works of Bach. In 1994, Margaret Phillips and her husband founded the English Organ School and Museum in former chapel premises in Milborne Port, Somerset, where they have a small collection of organs by English organ builders from the eighteenth century to the present day.

Margaret's programme will include works by Bach, Bruns, Langlais and the world premiere of Six Bagatelles by Brian Chapple, who will be present and introduce his music. Tickets £10/8 children £5 are available at the door or in advance from the TIC on 01297 442596.

BUCKY DON'T UKELELE BAND TO PERFORM IN PLAYERS' SHOW

THE Bucky Don't Ukelele Band will be performing several numbers as guests in Burton Bradstock Players' show "Keep the Home Fires Burning" taking place this week. This charity fundraiser – to coincide with Remembrance Day and the Poppy Appeal – is a nostalgic evening of 40s drama and song, with a donation from the proceeds to be given to Help for Heroes. In the interval, a ploughman's supper will be served.

The show takes place at 7.30 pm on Thursday, November 17th, Friday 18th and Saturday 19th in Burton Bradstock Village Hall. Ticket prices are £9 for adults and £6 for children, to include the ploughman's supper. Box Office is now open at Burton Bradstock Post Office, or you can telephone 01308 898041 or 07917388880. Tickets will also be available on the door.

Joe Dunthorne for Open Book Festival appearance

The "Submarine" writer talks to View 2 about his debut novel, his latest book Wild Abandon and visiting Bridport

HIGHLY acclaimed writer Joe Dunthorne will visit Bridport next week to read from his latest book and to introduce the feature film adaptation of his first novel.

Joe shot to fame with his debut novel "Submarine", which was long-listed for the Dylan Thomas Prize. The novel was made into a feature film after being adapted by comedian Richard Ayoade, best known for his role as Maurice Moss in The IT Crowd.

The story is written for the point of view of the narrator, 14-year-old Oliver Tate, as he comes to terms with his parent's failing marriage.

His latest book "Wild Abandon", set on a Welsh commune, has also been receiving rave reviews and looks set to be adapted into film once again.

Joe will be at the Bridport Arts Centre next week as part of the Bridport Open Book Festival, joined by acclaimed writer Greta Stoddart who will be reading her poetry.

Joe spoke to the VIEW 2 this week to discuss his arrival on the literary scene and revealed the surprising part Bridport had to play in the writing of his first novel.

AFTER the success of Submarine, did you feel under pressure when writing Wild Abandon?

Before the film happened, Submarine hadn't been a runaway success, there was an audience but not a huge one. Then after the film came out it changed things and I suddenly felt that people were watching. I was lucky in a way because by the time the film had come out I was already halfway through Wild Abandon so I'd built up a head of steam and I knew what I wanted to do with it. I think if I'd not had any ideas, then I think I might have felt a bit frightened.

YOU wrote in Oliver Tate's voice for quite a while before you actually wrote Submarine, did you find it hard to let go of him as a character?

Yes it was really strange. It's a very immersive experience writing in the first person narrator and I almost didn't think I could write any other way.

I started trying to write Wild Abandon in the first person but that didn't workout, maybe partly because I felt this residue of Oliver. It was helpful for me to try the third person but it did take a long time for me to become comfortable with the new voice. I think that's quite a good sign, it bodes well if you find a character's voice swallowing you whole but you find it difficult in that transition period when you've metaphorically killed off one character and you're trying to resurrect a new one.

DO you think Oliver is a character you may re-visit in the future?

It's a possibility, I'm kind of reluctant because my rule for writing is I follow whatever I'm interested in and whatever I'm passionate about and whatever excites me. If it so happens that Oliver's voice gives me an idea again then I'll go back to it, but I suspect I will always be looking for new options.

ON the face of it Wild Abandon appears very different to Submarine but a lot of the key themes are similar aren't they?

It just happened that way. The story in Wild Abandon kind of presented itself to me, it's loosely based on a friend of mine's childhood, growing up in a commune in West Wales and so the story was there. I probably would have chosen not to have a family falling apart story but that's not the way things work, you have to take what story you're presented with. I really liked the story, I liked the idea, I liked the setting, so I kind of just had to go for it. It's funny, looking at the two books, it looks like that's my thing, that's what I care about, but it was chance.

YOU visited many communes as research for your latest novel, what did you make of the lifestyle?

I found you couldn't really generalise from one commune to another. Some were very appealing, nice and interesting and some of them felt very stuffy, deluded and strange. There were not really any set rules. There are religious ones, spiritual ones, non-denominational ones, self-sufficient ones. There really isn't a very strong pattern and that was one of things I had to come to terms with and try and get across, was that these places were a lot more nuanced than the stereotype that's being presented to us.

BOTH your books have been set in Wales, did you make a conscious decision to stick to your Welsh roots?

I suppose it was both a conscious and a practical decision. You, like me, probably have an internal map of your childhood town engrained forever in your head, and it's just so much quicker to set the story somewhere you can imagine every lane, every path, every hill without having to go and do extensive research.

WERE you worried about how your story would look when adapted to film?

I quickly gave up on even the possibility that it would look like what it did in my head. I don't think any film adaptation will ever look religiously like what it does in the author's head. Once I had accepted that it was actually quite liberating, it became something very good but distinctive from the book in lots of ways. Actually it was quite a joy to watch someone else's version of the story.

YOU are coming to Bridport next Tuesday, is this your first visit to the town?

Actually not, I think it's possibly my second or third visit. When I was at university we came here on a creative writing retreat with the creative writing society, when I was beginning to write Submarine in fact. I remember very clearly that the second chapter in Submarine was written in a little cottage near Bridport.

■ Joe Dunthorne will be at the Bridport Arts Centre next Tuesday, November 22nd at 7:30pm, the film will be screened after the talk at 9:15pm. Tickets for each event are £6 or £5 for concessions. Tickets for both the film and the talk are £10 or £8 for concessions. To book, call the Bridport Arts Centre Box Office on 01308 424204.

Poetry for Pleasure

by Frank McGarry

THIS weekly column is chiefly intended for you, dear reader, to see your own verse in print - so keep those poems coming. This week Ann Axenskold, a reader in Weymouth, has sent us this poem on behalf of her friend Chloe Louise Abrams who wrote it. Chloe, you should know, is 14 years old.

THE WIND

The wind is a stalking cat.
She walks alone,
Coming and going
Never staying still.
Playing with the falling leaves
She's here for hours on end
Hurling through the air.
She can be evil,
She can be so dark
So dangerous and cunning,
At night she howls and screams
She scratched and claws,
Her victims go down.
In summer she calms,
Now she is resting at peace
She is loving and caring
Playful and so light.
Don't let her fool you
She's not to be tamed.
Her fury can build again.

Not every neighbourhood has a community hospital but Bridport has one, and it is much appreciated, especially by our reader, Mrs Wrighton of Allington, who has written this eulogy.

BRIDPORT COMMUNITY HOSPITAL AN APPRECIATION

Pruning roses, a sudden cry,
A thorn has gone into an eye,
A stab of pain, a flash of fear;
Thank God the hospital is near.

Our little town can proudly trace
The history of its healing place
Through many years of loving care
Doctors and nurses working there,
Administrators great and small,
Cleaners, cooks, porters, one and all
Have striven hard to play their part,
Practitioners of the healing art.

As in the past, so too today
They try to take the pain away
From those who wear a crown of thorns
Through sleepless nights and anxious morns
And those who come, unwilling guests,
To outpatients for scans and tests,
While patients on the wards rely
On visitors who live nearby.

A broken bottle in the sand,
A little girl has cut her hand,

A flow of blood, a scream, a tear,
Thank God the hospital is near.

From a poem about a hospital to one written in a hospital. Sasha Moorsom, who died in 1993, was a patient being treated for cancer when she composed these lovely lines.

JEWELS IN MY HAND

I hold dead friends like jewels in my hand
Watching their brilliance gleam against my palm
Turquoise and emerald, jade, a golden band

All ravages of time they can withstand
Like talismans their grace keeps me from harm
I hold dead friends like jewels in my hand

I see them standing in some borderland
Their heads half-turned, waiting for my arm
Turquoise and emerald, jade, a golden band

I'm not afraid they will misunderstand
My turning to them like a magic charm
I hold dead friends like jewels in my hand
Turquoise and emerald, jade, a golden band.

Stork Room Dance with the Rex Trevett Big Band this Friday

IN 1950s London Picadillys famous Stork Room was a place of unimaginable luxury and Bridport Arts Centre is recapturing the spirit of the age with a Stork Room Dance.

The Rex Trevett Ban will be playing all of the best tunes from the 50s and 60s including Glen Miller's American Patrol and Louis Armstrong's Mac the Knife.

Margie Barbour said "The evening is perfect for dancing or simply listening to the tremendous Rex Trevett Band, Glenn Bayliss our wonderful local dance teacher will lead a party Samba so everyone can join in'.

The club accommodated Aristocrats, Millionaires, film stars, singers, Krug Champagne and fine wine. Dress up in something to suit the theme, black white and something sparkly!

This event is a celebration of photographer Marcus Harrison's exhibition in the Allsop Gallery. Marcus moved to London with only his Leica camera in 1952 making his way to in house photography in the Stork Room, capturing film stars, royalty and the underworld at play. There will be a chance to see his photographs as well as celebrating the Opening of Bridport Open Book Festival at 6.30pm.

Book your table now and take your places on the dance floor of the Marlow Theatre floor at 7.30pm.

This event will raise funds for the Rex Trevett Big Band and We HEART BAC appeal.

The dance takes place on Friday, November 18th from 7.30pm. Tickets cost £7.50, available from the Arts Centre.

A twist in the tail for November Comedy Café

THE Comedy Café at Bridport Arts Centre will be back this week with five more up and coming comedians and a fantastic headliner.

The reputation of the comedy café night is growing rapidly and this Friday's show looks set to be another sell out success, so audiences are being encouraged to get their tickets soon to avoid disappointment.

Taking to the stage this month will be five new comedians from across the south and a headline act who has been tickling audiences across the country since 2005.

Opening the night will be Chris Turner, regular compere of Exeter's Laughing Cheetah Comedy Club. Chris has recently won his heat of the Laughing Horse New Act of the Year and is hoping his west country humour will prove a hit with the Bridport crowd.

Continuing the night will be Bournemouth based Alex Leam, who debuted at the Edinburgh Festival in 2010, and circuit favourite Philip Jones, nicknamed "The Juggernaut" for his unrivalled gig rate.

Closing the first half will be disabled comedian Graham Whistler, fresh from his debut Edinburgh solo show "Stand up, fall down".

The last new act of the night, opening the second half, will be London comic David Hanant. In his first 18 months on the comedy circuit David has notched up more than 150 gigs.

Headlining the night will be Jane Hill, a regular host of Custard Comedy and a previous finalist in both the London Comic of the Year and the English Comedian of the Year competitions. With three Edinburgh fringe shows under her belt, Jane's sharp, intelligent observational comedy is charming, but with a real twist in the tail.

Resident compere, and Bridport resident, Tom Glover will once again be hosting the night, sharing his latest views on Bridport life.

The November Bridport Arts Centre Comedy Café will be at 8pm this Friday, November 18th - tickets are available from the box office on 01308 424204, £5/£3 concessions.

New York poet Remi Kanazi comes to Dorchester

INTERNATIONALLY-ACCLAIMED New York performance poet Remi Kanazi is coming to Dorchester Corn Exchange on Friday 18th November to perform poems from his latest collection 'Poetic Injustice: Writings on Resistance and Palestine'.

Remi is a poet and writer, author of 'Poetic Injustice: Writings on Resistance and Palestine' and editor of 'Poets for Palestine'. His work has been featured by news outlets throughout the world, including BBC and Al Jazeera English, and has taken him across America and the Middle East. He is currently on a tour of America and the UK, and has recently performed in New York, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

He has performed at the internationally-renowned Palestine Festival of Literature, as well as at Poetry International, and is coming to Dorchester as part of a UK tour which includes dates in London, Manchester, Liverpool, Bristol and Glasgow.

Dorset Palestinian Israeli Peace Group member, Jessica Lousley, said: "We are really excited that Remi is coming to Dorset as part of his UK tour. This is a fantastic opportunity for people to see a performer whose poetry tackles some of the most pressing global issues of our time, and who is able to bring them to life with a passion and lucidity that is incredibly powerful."

Acclaimed novelist and Booker Prize winner, John Berger, has said of Remi Kanazi: "You want to hear a voice which refuses to be silenced, and only such voices carry the deep truth about what's happening these days, about what's happening in Gaza or Iraq or East Jerusalem? OK. If you do, listen to Remi Kanazi."

Stéphane Hessel, French ambassador, former WWII French resistance fighter, and participant in the drafting of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights said: "Back from Gaza, Remi Kanazi's poems make tears come to my eyes. Poetry, more than any other means, communicates what is deepest in man, what gives us hope beyond crime and despair".

Jessica said "With the recent move to declare an independent Palestinian state at the UN putting Palestine and Israel firmly back on the news agenda, there could not be a more important time to have the chance to hear voices speaking directly from the very heart of this 63-year old conflict".

Dorset Palestinian Israeli Peace Group, which is organising the event, is a Dorchester-based group committed to raising awareness locally - through talks, films and other events - about the situation in Palestine and Israel, and to working together towards a just and peaceful resolution for all people involved in the conflict.

Remi Kanazi is performing at The Corn Exchange (upstairs in the Town Hall), Dorchester, Friday 18th November at 7.30pm. Admission on the door: £4 (unwaged £2). Bar open from 6.00pm. For more information contact: dorset.palestine@gmail.com

THIS WEEK'S NEW RELEASES

TWILIGHT SAGA: BREAKING DAWN - PART 1 ^{12A}

THIS week's biggest release is the latest in the Twilight Series.

The Quileute and the Volturi close in on expecting parents Edward (Robert Pattinson) and Bella (Kristen Stewart), whose unborn child poses different threats to the wolf pack and vampire coven.

Also stars Taylor Lautner as Jacob Black.

JUSTICE ¹⁵

JUSTICE stars Nicholas Cage as Will Gerard, a husband who enlists the services of a vigilante group to help him settle the score after his wife is assaulted. Following the revenge favour, Will Gerard owes the group a favour of his own...

January Jones is wife Laura Gerard, and Guy Pearce also stars in this clever thriller.

WELCOME TO THE RILEYS ¹⁵

Something's wrong at the Rileys. Married nearly 30 years, Doug (James Gandolfini) and Lois (Melissa Leo) rarely talk. She doesn't leave their Indianapolis home, and she's ordered a gravestone with their names and birth years on it. He has a long-time Thursday night mistress (Kristen Stewart) whom he invites to go with him to a plumbing supply conference in New Orleans. Once there, Doug calls Lois to say he's staying for a while. What's he leaving behind and what's he looking for in New Orleans? And Lois, can she break out?

A BRAND NEW SOCIAL NETWORK: MY SOCIAL WHIRL

WHEN Justine Blythe relocated from Plush to Weymouth in 2010, she realised that sometimes it can be difficult to make new friends in a new town, so she decided to launch a brand new social network called "My Social Whirl".

The launch of the network will take place this Saturday, November 19th, at 8pm at The Kazzbar, Banus, The Esplanade, Weymouth where guests will enjoy entertainment from Spanish guitarist Jon Pickard plus cocktails and canapés produced by baristas and chefs at The Kazzbar. This event is free to attend, guests must email livelife@mysocialwhirl.com to put their name on the guest list as places are limited.

Justine Blythe, Director of My Social Whirl said "I am a very sociable person yet I still found it hard to make new friends, so the aim of the company is to allow people to make lots of friends, go on many and varied social events and try new exciting experiences. Members will be able to interact on line too and arrange their own events or join specific interest groups. Members will be personally introduced to each other to avoid any awkward moments. Events include Christmas Shopping, January Gourmet Evening, Pub Quiz, and a Spa Day". More information can be found at www.mysocialwhirl.com or email at livelife@mysocialwhirl.com

One of the biggest social changes in the last ten years in affluent societies has been the increase in single person households. This is due to a variety of factors including the rise in divorce rates, increasing numbers of lone parents and young professionals moving around and living alone for longer. Over the next twenty years single person households are predicted to increase by over four million to nearly eleven million households in the UK alone. Many recent psychological studies have shown that loneliness can have a detrimental effect on a person's health, physically as well as mentally. Many of the studies have shown a direct link to increases in heart disease, high blood pressure and the incidence of cancer in patients who are lonely. Chronic loneliness can also be a major contributing factor in depression. Socially isolated people are shown to have shorter life spans than those with a support network of close friends and family.

These factors have contributed to the explosion in the number of social networking sites on the internet in recent years. However, chatting to someone on-line is no substitute for actual face to face interactions with friends. My Social Whirl aims to combat this growing phenomenon.

WONDERFUL CONCERT BY SHELDON SINGERS

THOSE who were not put off by the atrocious weather on Armistice Day evening had the pleasure of an inspiring concert performed by the Sheldon Singers in Lyme Regis Parish Church.

The first half of the evening was music by Gibbons, Farrell and Sammes interspersed with poems by Wilfred Owen and Philip Larkin, read by Philip Evans, the Rev. Jane Skinner and Hugh Dunford Wood. Already the small congregation were becoming aware of the discipline of the Sheldon Singers with their extraordinarily moving soft tone coupled with their explosive dynamic sound of which we were to experience more, in the second half of the programme.

This was a performance of Goodall's Requiem 'Eternal Light' - yes, the same composer who wrote the music for the BBC's 'Vicar of Dibley'. Julie De'Ath-Lancaster guided her choir in this work with consummate skill, assisted by her highly competent soloists Moira Mackay and Glyn Jones, and supported by Alex Davies at the new organ. Alex Davies serves special mention because of the skill he displayed in adapting the complex rhythms of the orchestral score to that instrument.

No applause was asked for during the evening, save at the when the audience showed their appreciation with enthusiasm. After which a collection was made for the Royal British Legion.

Bridport Leisure Centre Voted 5th Best in the South West!

Bridport Leisure Centre has achieved the outstanding result of being voted 5th best club in the South West at the recent Health Club Awards held in Birmingham.

The scheme measures the quality of customer service, facilities and value provided by clubs by asking members to rate them by completing a questionnaire rating their own club on the level of service, facilities and value for money.

Nationally the competition saw over 16,000 members complete questionnaires rating their club.

Clubs were ranked in 15 regions; and a total of 90 clubs across the UK reached the shortlist stage of the competition.

Bridport Leisure Centre achieved 86.75% with the top score in the region of 90.43%.

Questionnaires completed by Bridport Leisure Centre members included the following comments:

• 'Bridport Leisure Centre is a great place to workout. The changing facilities especially the Dryside Changing Rooms and the Fitness Suite are 1st class. The staff are excellent and very friendly and give brilliant service. They are one of the centre's strongest assets and really are experts in the field of customer service.'

• 'I've been a member of a few clubs over the years but Bridport Leisure Centre is definitely my favourite. The Reception staff know my name and the names of most of the people who walk into the building – they're efficient and helpful. The club is properly inclusive and relaxed.'

• 'I find all staff to be pleasant and helpful and the whole experience to be value for money'

At the exclusive awards ceremony event which took place at the Hilton Metropole Birmingham where the regionally gold, silver and bronze winners were announced.

The event was attended by 200 guests from shortlisted clubs who learnt their fate from presenter Mark Durden-Smith. Mark addressed the audience saying, "These awards are a true reflection of how well you are doing what you do, and whether you are providing Good Value for Money. Your members can be your harshest of critics. They're the front line, they experience your facilities and customer service on a daily basis and so they're in a unique position to assess your performance".

As well as achieving recognition for being 5th in the South West, Bridport Leisure Centre also received very positive comments following their annual Quest Assessment Report (UK Quality Scheme for Sport & Leisure).

Nick Neale, General Manager said "we are very proud of the level of service we provide to all our members. We believe we offer excellent value for money and this Award is a great way to prove it. The community of, and visitors to, Bridport and its surrounding villages have supported the leisure centre for many years and we are really pleased to have achieved this recognition. In a way, it is as important to our members as it is to all the Staff who work so hard to deliver such a good service. We are very lucky to have a highly committed team who make the leisure centre such a vibrant and important part of our local community."

GIFTED YOUNG OBOE PLAYER PERFORMS WITH LOCAL ORCHESTRA

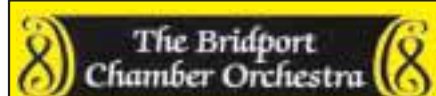

Fayruz Megdiche

THE Bridport Chamber Orchestra is delighted to be playing an oboe concerto with an exceptional young soloist. Fayruz Megdiche, at only thirteen years of age, is already a seasoned performer and plays the piano and organ as well as the oboe. Among many young people's ensembles she has played with the Dorset Youth Concert Band and the National Children's Orchestra of Great Britain.

She has had masterclasses with top British oboe players and has attended improvisation masterclasses with Charles Hazlewood, the conductor. Fayruz is supported by the Richard Ely Trust, which exists to help young musicians as they begin their careers. On Sunday 27th November, at 3 pm in St Swithun's Church, Bridport, she will perform Marcello's oboe concerto; this will be a great chance to hear a rising talent at a local venue. Tickets at £8 are available on the door and the concert will be followed by tea and home-made cakes.

FREE EVENTS FOR KIDS AT OPEN BOOK FESTIVAL

A SERIES of free events for children will be on offer during Bridport's first Open Book Festival.

The festival begins this Saturday, November 19th with 'Opening the Book', from 10.30am to 12.30pm. The opening day celebration will feature a fancy dress competition, for youngsters to come as their favourite character from a book, with a Giant Fancy Dress Consequences game with Sarah Butterworth. The Fancy dress competition will be judged at midday.

There will also be children's poetry with Phil Bowden, pavement art with Angie Porter and a chance to decorate a book biscuit in the Art Garden Café, all for free.

Children will also be able to listen to Carol Hunt, author of Bridport's Junior Big Read, 'Enchantment of the Black Dog', as well as browsing Waterstone's book-stall, and other arts and crafts activities.

Other open book festival events for children and families include a chance to meet Barbara Spencer, popular author of Jack Burnside adventures 'Scuffy', 'A Dangerous Game of Football' and 'The Bird Children' at 4pm on Tuesday, November 22nd at Bridport Arts Centre.

On Thursday, November 24th, also at BAC at 4pm, there will be a rare chance to meet best-selling local author and illustrator Charlie Fuge, talking about his hugely popular books, including the Wombat titles.

For younger book-lovers, there are also Toddler sessions and Story Time at Bridport Library and Storytelling for the very young at Bridport Children's Centre. See www.bridport-arts.com for full details of the festival programme.

DIGITAL FIRST FOR DORSET AT OPEN BOOK FESTIVAL

A NEW digital edition of The Waste Land, by the UK's favourite poet TS Eliot, is to be shown in public for the first time in Bridport.

The Waste Land app for iPad will kick-start a debate – sponsored by Bridport-based Watershed PR – about The Future of the Word.

The event on Saturday, November 19th is a coup for the new Bridport Open Book Festival, set up by Bridport Arts Centre to tie in with the famous Bridport Prize and celebrate reading and writing.

Faber & Faber's Head of Digital, Henry Volans, who published the app with Touch Press, said: 'Though it has been presented at industry conferences in New York, London and Frankfurt, The Waste Land for iPad has never been shown at a public event.'

'So this is an exciting opportunity. Publishers spend much of their lives discussing the digital future of books but they rarely ask readers what they want.'

'Here's a rare chance to bridge that gap, to bring a pioneering digital book to a book festival and provoke debate around new ways of presenting literature. Sceptics welcome!'

The Waste Land app is much more than just an electronic book. It includes a specially-commissioned film of actor Fiona Shaw performing the poem, archive recordings by Alec Guinness, Ted Hughes and Eliot himself that are otherwise hard to find, a new reading by actor Viggo Mortenson, and numerous interviews with such luminaries as Nobel Prize winner Seamus Heaney, many of these filmed by the BBC.

Jonathan Hudston said: 'You have to admit it's a great itinerary – London, Frankfurt, New York, Bridport. We just want to make sure that West Dorset doesn't miss out on the latest digital developments, because we know from our own experience that it's possible to do extraordinary things these days.'

The Waste Land app has just been shortlisted for a 2012 Interaction Award by the Interaction Design Association (IXDA) for Disrupting - Re-imagining completely an existing product or service by creating new behaviors, usages or markets. The app is up against products including the Ford SmartGauge, Nike+ GPS and the Morgan Stanley Matrix.

TS Eliot (1888-1965) is buried not far from Bridport at East Coker in Somerset. He was voted the nation's favourite poet in a BBC poll in 2009. The Waste Land, first published in 1922, is commonly regarded as the 20th century's greatest poem.

Tickets (£5 / £6) are available from Bridport Arts Centre (01308 424204).

Local Writers make first Public Performance

STORY TRADERS, a group of local amateur writers, will be reading their work as part of the Open Book Festival on Tuesday, November 22nd from 1-2pm at the Beach and Barnicott.

Nine writers will read out works of fiction inspired from visits to both the Bridport museum and the History Centre. These will include tales from the first and second world wars.

The event is free to the public and will be held in the Gold Room (2nd floor) of The Beach and Barnicott 6, South Street, Bridport.

Story Traders was founded by Kathy Hallsworth two years ago. They meet on the first and second Tuesday each month from 10am to 12noon first floor at the Beach and Barnicott.

This is the Band's first visit to Bridport
" DON'T MISS IT"

Beaminster and District Camera Club

BRUCE Upton gave an excellent illustrated talk on Rwanda at our meeting on the 8th November. Bruce, a former assistant head teacher at Beaminster school, had volunteered for VSO and spent two years in Rwanda helping to resolve some of the massive problems of their schools and education system. His talk was beautifully illustrated with evocative photographs of the country and it's people and did much to convey the enormous difficulties and challenges they face.

Having eased our way into the 2011-12 season, the emphasis on future meetings will swing towards evaluating and improving member's photographic techniques and picture composition.

The next meeting will be on the 22nd November where there will be two competitions for printed pictures; one for any subject and the other for a special subject 'Water'. These competitions provide valuable feedback from external judges and help considerably to improve photographic competence.

Future meetings in the program include further competitions based on digitally projected images as well as prints, together with items such as 'Widening your Photographic Horizons' and 'The Challenges of Close-up and Macro Photography'.

For more information about the club please contact the club Chairman, Tessa Safadi on 01935 891068 or visit our web site: www.beaminstercameraclub.co.uk

Visitors are always welcome at any of the meetings.

Stunning Renovation in Popular Village

NO attention to detail has been spared on the renovation of this extended four bedroom chalet bungalow in the heart of a village packed with an array of amenities. The property briefly comprises 2 double ground floor bedrooms one of which is currently used as a 2nd sitting room, superb kitchen dining room with granite worktops, luxury family bathroom including walk in 'wet room' shower and sitting room opening onto the garden. Upstairs comprises a generously sized master bedroom with stunning en suite wet room and fourth bedroom. Outside there is plentiful off street parking on a paved forecourt and the enclosed rear garden enjoys a raised terrace, lawned areas, large studio and storage shed.

Maiden Newton lies approximately 10 miles north west of Dorchester and enjoys the facilities of a large Doctors Surgery, Village Church, Railway Station, bus routes, various shops, cafe, restaurant and petrol station along with an active village hall. BARTLE PYE strongly recommend an early viewing for this property on the market for £350,000 Freehold.

Please call on 01305 230 477 for further information or log on to our website www.bartlepyehomes.co.uk.

LYME REGIS - £595,000

CHARWOOD Guest House is a long established Bed & Breakfast that has benefited from much improvement by the present owners. Located just a short walk from the town centre and sea it is an ideal base to explore Lyme Regis. The property has 7 letting room six of those are en suite, breakfast/dining room and generous owners accommodation. It further benefits from a large car park, space for 7 to 8 cars. A large cellar, gardens and some fine views over the town and sea.

Lyme Regis is famed for its many historic connections and character buildings, and of course, for its well known Cobb Harbour. As a resort, it is considered quite unspoilt, but has most of the shops and amenities that one could require, in addition to which there are numerous leisure activities including both sailing and power boat clubs, a cliff top golf course and a bowling club. The whole coastline with Lyme Regis and Charmouth at its centre has recently been designated a World Heritage Site, named the Jurassic Coast, putting it in the same category as the Grand Canyon. It lies approximately 5 miles from the market town of Axminster, with its main line railway connections to Waterloo (Approx. 2 3/4 hours). Taunton and Exeter are within a radius of about 30 miles with access to the M5 motorway and the county town of Dorchester is a similar distance. Locally there are primary schools in Lyme Regis and Uplyme along with the well respected Woodroffe and Colyton Grammar Schools.

For more information please call Fortnam Smith & Banwell Lyme Regis on 01297 445666.

POUNDBURY - £350,000

THIS detached stone built double-fronted property is delightfully situated in the sought after Phase 1 of Poundbury. The property is equidistant from the shops, village hall and pub of Poundbury Village in one direction, with the bus stops and medical centre equally close at hand in the other direction.

The property has a spacious dining hall with elegant double doors into the sitting room, which has French doors to the enclosed garden. The kitchen has a good range of floor and wall mounted units with space for a free-standing fridge freezer and a door to the utility room and cloakroom.

There is a spacious landing with doors to the three double bedrooms and bathroom. One bedroom has a well-fitted dressing room and another has an en-suite shower room.

The enclosed and largely paved garden wraps around the house and has gated parking leading to the garage. The property is offered for sale with no onward chain by Elder & Froy. Please contact their Poundbury office 01305 269200 for further details or to arrange a viewing.

BURTON BRADSTOCK - £750 PCM

THIS property benefits from 2 double bedrooms and a single bedroom, a good sized living room and a newly fitted kitchen with separate dining area.

The property also has a large utility space and downstairs cloaks room, off road parking and above average sized garden with stream and a fish pond.

For more information please call Bridgman & Speak Estate Agents on 01308 888111.

Fishpond Bottom property to be featured in Escape to the Country

- BBC2, Friday 18th November, 3pm -

FORTNAM Smith and Banwell, team estate agent in Charmouth, Dorset, is thrilled to announce that Sheepwash Mead, an attractive property in Fishpond Bottom for sale with the popular agency at £599,000, is to be featured in the latest series of BBC2 programme Escape to the Country.

The programme will be aired on BBC2 at 3pm on Friday 18th November, when presenter Julian 'Jules' Hudson goes on a £650,000 house hunt in Dorset with a couple who have lived their entire married lives in separate homes, 70 miles apart. While in the county, Jules also heads to the beach to search for fossils on the famous UNESCO World Heritage Jurassic Coastline.

Nestling in the Marshwood Vale on the edge of the West Dorset/ East Devon borders, Sheepwash Mead is a superbly attractive rural house with four bedrooms, set within 1.5 acres of tranquil grounds with a paddock and stunning panoramic countryside views across the Vale.

The hamlet of Fishpond is set in an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. To the north stands the Iron Age Fort of Lamberts Castle and to the south east is Coney's Castle, both owned by the National Trust. To the south, Wootton Hill and Charmouth Forest offer magnificent views and are popular with horse riders, ramblers and cyclists. The coastal village of Charmouth is approximately four miles to the south and around seven miles to the east are the towns of Lyme Regis – a regency seaside town, and Axminster – a historical market town with mainline railway link to London Waterloo.

A covered porch and front door lead to the inner lobby and the hallway. In the large double aspect lounge is a natural stone open grate fireplace and French doors leading to the open plan sun room/ dining area with a large picture window overlooking the lawns and paddock and a patio door to the garden. The galley kitchen is also double aspect and is fitted with medium Oak panelled units. In the utility room is a large storage/ larder cupboard and a stable door leading to an open sided porch housing a timber shed with steps down to the garden. A shower room/ WC completes the downstairs while upstairs is the landing; family bathroom – also double aspect fitted with a his and hers sink unit, triple aspect master bedroom, two further double bedrooms and a study/ fourth bedroom. A sliding door from the inner lobby leads to the workshop.

The approximately 1.5 acres of grounds are well tended with wonderful rural views across the Marshwood Vale. The house is approached via a gated driveway with parking for several cars and a garage. The grounds are bordered by mature hedging and fencing and are laid mainly to lawn with mature fruit trees, specimen plants, a greenhouse and restful seating areas to enjoy the vista. An additional gate leads down the far side of the garden with access to the paddock of around an acre, which is securely fenced on all sides and broadly flat pastureland with a timber framed stable. The paddock can also be accessed from the stable direction.

Fortnam Smith and Banwell is a member of team, working together with over 100 other team offices in the Westcountry and hundreds nationwide to sell more homes for clients. For further information about team, visit www.westcountryteam.com.

To see Sheepwash Mead and its idyllic rural location, watch Escape to the Country on BBC2 at 3pm on Friday 18th November. For further information or to arrange a viewing, pop into Fortnam Smith and Banwell at 2 The Arcade in Charmouth, call 01297 560945 or visit www.teamprop.co.uk.

Contextual data for reports on Commons debate on petrol prices

RECENT RESEARCH from leading vehicle remarketing company, British Car Auctions (BCA), has illustrated the possible consequences of a continuing rise in fuel on UK motorists, as MPs today (15th November 2011) debate the issue in the House of Commons. The latest Used Car Market Report* from BCA included a survey of 4,000 motorists. This revealed that half of respondents felt that, at some point in time, the rising cost of fuel will force them to change to a more fuel-efficient car or alter their driving habits. Around a fifth reached that point when fuel hit £1.30 per litre and by the time the price of fuel reaches the £1.50 per litre mark a further 15% of car owners will be in a similar position.

Rising Fuel Price

Further demonstrating how strongly motorists feel about this issue, 39% of respondents to the survey said they would cut fuel duty if they could influence the country's transport and motoring strategy. 22% said they would tackle the national fuel price.

Fuel consumption remains the top priority for motorists, with 27% of respondents to the BCA research saying they will be looking for better fuel economy on their next vehicle.

In other data included in the BCA Used Car Market Report it was revealed that the number of two-car households has fallen by 5% in the last 12 months.

*The BCA Used Car Market Report utilises Consumer research by BMRB International, based on interviews with 4,000 respondents, representative of the UK adult population aged 17 years and over. Fieldwork for this research was undertaken during March 2011.

Their labour rate may cost you less,
but you could end up paying for it.

It's time to see through independent garages.

When it comes to servicing and repairing your Mercedes-Benz at an independent garage, can you be sure you're not paying more than you need to?

At Mercedes-Benz of Dorchester's Official Workshop, we'll tell you the price of any work that's needed and how long it'll take before we begin, so you'll know exactly where you stand.

Furthermore, all our Genuine Parts come with a comprehensive two-year guarantee and include the labour cost of fitting them, meaning that when you drive away, you'll feel reassured that if something goes wrong, we'll be on hand to help. That's why it pays to see the experts.

And at the moment, this is especially true. If you present the voucher below when bringing your car in to us, we'll give you £50 off the labour cost for any servicing or repair work we carry out.

To find out more, contact us today on 01305 264 494.

*Average based on customer service feedback from Service Events held at this Mercedes-Benz Official Workshop between 1 January 2010 and 31 December 2010.

£50

This voucher entitles the holder to £50 off the labour cost of any servicing or repair work carried out at Mercedes-Benz of Dorchester.
Mercedes-Benz of Dorchester 01305 264 494

This offer is only redeemable upon presentation of this voucher and is valid for a single transaction but cannot be used for MOT tests. Photocopies of the voucher will not be accepted. This voucher is valid from 01/08/2011 and can be used at any time.

The most successful man in motorsport history

A photograph of Sebastian Loeb, a professional rally driver, wearing a blue and white racing suit with a Michelin logo on the cap. He is holding a bottle of champagne and looking towards the camera with a slight smile.

■ Sebastian Loeb

THE 'SEBS' are ganging up on Michael Schumacher. Not so long ago the all-conquering German's remarkable tally of records – these included an unprecedented seven world championship titles, 91 race victories, 76 fastest laps, 68 pole positions plus 13 victories in one season – all seemed invincible... but not any more.

In Formula One fellow countryman Sebastian Vettel is making big in-roads into Schumacher's seemingly impregnable records while, on Sunday, rally superstar Sébastien Loeb clinched an eighth straight FIA World Rally Championship title to become the most successful driver in motorsport history. The Frenchman's eighth world championship not only eclipses Schumacher but also the achievements of motorcycle legend Valentino Rossi who also has seven world championship crowns to his name in MotoGP/500cc.

"For sure I'm proud to become the most successful driver in motorsport and feel very happy," said 37-year-old Loeb who has amassed an unparalleled 67 wins from 151 starts in the WRC. "We were equal until this week with Michael Schumacher who had seven – now we have eight. I don't really want to compare different branches of the sport but it's very special. I never thought I'd achieve this when I started my career."

Having originally competed as one of France's top young gymnasts, Loeb switched to rallying in the mid-nineties and first came to international prominence when winning the Super 1600 Drivers' Cup, the predecessor to the Junior World Rally Championship in 2001. The following year he joined the Citroën factory team and together with co-driver Daniel Elena scored a first WRC victory in Germany. After finishing championship runner-up by just a single point in 2003, Loeb took his first world crown in 2004 and now has mounted seven successful title defences.

The Frenchman's phenomenal dominance has cemented his reputation as one of the greatest names in sporting history and he says he has no intentions of lifting his foot off the throttle just yet.

"I started rallying for passion and I feel the same sensation when I'm in the car. I still enjoy rallies – that's my main motivation. It will not change my life if it's seven titles, eight titles or nine. I enjoy the moment and like what I do," he explained.

Having renewed his contract with Citroen, Loeb will be gunning for a ninth consecutive title when the 2012 FIA World Rally Championship kicks off with the famous Monte Carlo Rally in January. And understandably the champion's confident of setting even more records.

"We have won eight titles in a row and I can only have the goal to win another title next year," he remarked. "There is no precise plan for the day I stop driving – at the moment the next goal is the next title. If I can make it 10 titles I hope I can but I don't know. I take everything year after year. For now my goal is next year; after that I will see."

While Loeb will start 2012 as the man to beat, he faces increasing rivalry in the years ahead as the FIA World Rally Championship becomes more and more competitive. This year's title race went right down to the wire as Ford's Mikko Hirvonen mounted a major challenge and with factory MINI and VW teams gearing up for full scale attacks in 2012 and 2013 the opposition is set to become stronger and stronger.

Lyme into quarter-finals but Beaminster crash out

Reports - November 12th DORSET INTERMEDIATE CUP CORFE CASTLE 2 LYME REGIS 4

LYME Regis continued their defence of the Dorset Intermediate Cup with a 4-2 win at Dorset Division Two strugglers Corfe Castle in a game that referee Keith Wroe saw fit to book 10 players and send-off Corfe Castle goalkeeper Ben Baldock.

The hosts, in direct comparison to Lyme, went into the game languishing near the foot of the Dorset Division Two and having lost their last seven outings. But this counted for little as they took an early lead.

But the goal sparked the Seaside into life and Julien Simier leveled with a classic poacher's goal before Joel Gostling lashed home a 20-yard scorcher. But Corfe squared things up before the interval.

The Seaside's, who weren't at their best, finally clicked midway through the second period when Simier rounded-off the move of the match for his second goal.

This was swiftly followed by Baldock's dismissal for a last man foul on Simier. But the resulting spot-kick was skied over the crossbar by the normally reliable Mark Bailey.

Then Lyme, with the man advantage, took control in the last 20 minutes and finally stormed the Castle ramparts when teenager Kieron White bagged a fourth.

Seaside's manager Robin Townsend selected midfield schemer Bailey as his top-performer.

Townsend and his troops can now look forward to a quarter-final on December 12th at Ferndown Town Greenfields who were knocked-out at the semi-final stage by Beaminster last season.

BEAMINSTER 0 CORFE MULLEN UNITED 2

LYME Regis were left to carry the PSL banner alone after Beaminster crashed out in a 2-0 home defeat at the hands of Corfe Mullen United. The visitors came into the tie riding high at the top of Dorset League Division Two and went on to extend their unbeaten run to 10 games.

DORSET MINOR CUP

HANDLEY SPORTS 6 WAYTOWN HOUNDS 1
THE Hounds were simply not as good as Handley and were under the cosh right from the start and found themselves 3-0 down after half an hour.

The Hounds shuffled their formation and started to threaten Handley, but it was the hosts who got the next goal to make it 4-0.

Right on the stroke of half-time Matt Read had a shot that hit the bar and the rebound fell to Edd Stephenson, who hammered in into the top corner, to give the Hounds a bit of hope going into the second-half.

The visitors were much tighter in the second half and limited Handley to two more goals.

This was the Hounds first loss of the season, but they were beaten by the better side. Manager Mark Hughes was full of praise for Handley, he said: "They were perfect hosts on the day; the pitch and facilities were first class."

PREMIER

PERRY STREET 1 ILMINSTER RESERVES 3
DARK horses Ilminster Town Reserves remain firmly on the shoulders of leading pair Lyme Regis and Beaminster with a comfortable 3-1 win at relegation haunted Perry Street who are still without a point after eight games.

Richard Curwood (2) and Brad Miles scored for the Blues.

W & M CHINNOCK 0 MERRIOTT ROVERS 0

WEST & Middle Chinnock and Merriott Rovers are both without a win in seven after battling it out for a goalless draw at Oxleaze.

The Chinnocks just about shaded it with Rovers' keeper Guy 'Nobby' Cossins in fine form.

Both sides finished the game with 10 men after referee Lance Turner red-carded Chinnocks' Ollie Hutchings (88th min) and Rovers' Tom Case (57th min) for violent conduct.

WINSHAM UNITED 3 FARWAY UNITED 2

TWO goals from Tom Stead and on OG saw Winsham sneak up to fourth spot after a 3-2 win over Farway United at Baker's Field.

DIVISION ONE

ILMINSTER COLTS 1 BEAMINSTER RES 5
STRIKER Ross Picketts turned playmaker with four assists as Beaminster Reserves racked-up their biggest away win of the season so far.

Former first team skipper Murray Legg benefitted most from Pickett's aid when he netted a hat-trick with Callum Sorrell scoring the other two of the nap-hand.

LYME REGIS RES 2 SHEPTON BEAU 2

LYME Regis Reserves did well to take a point off high-flying Shepton Beauchamp, but could well have snatched all three points at the death had Fred Thomson not squandered a close-range sitter after getting on the end of a superb cross from substitute Ally Rattenbury.

Shepton led after 15 minutes but Ryan Fifer continued his good goal scoring form as he deceived two defenders in the inside left channel before punting a shot across ex-Lyme full-back Andy Moody who now dons the gloves for the Somerset side.

The Seaside's took the lead in the 51st minute when Aaron Marshall burst into the D and smashed an outside of the boot shot that tore past Moody and into the net for his first goal in Lyme colours.

But just when Lyme thoughts were turning to a three point haul after an impressive all-round team performance, the visitors leveled with nine minute left on the clock.

Veteran keeper Mark Bevis, making his home debut for the Seaside's, pulled off a fine save but had no chance with the follow-up effort.

NETHERBURY 4 MISTERTON 3

NETHERBURY were finally on the right end of a close scoreline after having to battle hard to overcome a useful Misterton side.

Despite Netherbury having the better start, it was visiting Misterton who took the lead after Ricky Smith went down in the box and then stepped-up to score the resulting penalty.

The Ambers were level eight minutes later when Ali Kamara made space and shot low into the bottom corner. Misterton re-took the lead with a Jason Crabb header from a deep corner.

But Netherbury responded again and Kamara scored possibly one of the best goals seen at the playing fields, he hammered in a brilliant half-volley from fully 45 yards that arched into the top corner!

But the hosts were caught cold two minutes into the second-half when Smith pounced on a long ball and nodded it past Adam Sorrell.

The Ambers made it 3-3 thanks to Ben Brook who picked out Kamara who completed his hat-trick with a composed finish.

With both teams wanting the win, it was Netherbury's talented youngster Reece Bulman, with his third goal in two games, who volleyed home the winner in the 88th minute.

Manager Andy Loudon said: "That's a massive win for us today. I felt we deserved to edge it and it's great to get that winning feeling back." Man-of-the-Match was Kamara, closely followed by captain Ryan Gay.

DIVISION TWO

CHARMOUTH 4 CREWKERNE RANGERS 3
CHARMOUTH clambered out of the drop zone after staging a superb comeback to shock Crewkerne Rangers at Barrs Lane.

Scott Meyers gave the Robins an early advantage but Rangers hit back through Lloyd Doble, Tom Charles and Steve Bryant to lead 3-1 at half-time.

The comeback was triggered by Matt Pile before a foul led to Danny Rendall, back in Charmouth red after a short spell with Lyme Regis, slotting home an equaliser from the penalty spot.

Meyers, who shared the MoA award with centre-back Matt Dale, popped-up to grab an 88th minute winner as the hosts completed what joint-manager Gerry Bearpark described as: "By far our best 45 minutes of the season."

PYMORE 0 SOUTH PETH RES 3

PYMORE drew a blank for the first time this season and were made to pay as unbeaten South Petherton Reserves made it three home defeats on the spin for the West Dorset club who slip a place to seventh as a result.

Pethy were impressed with the efforts of Pymore keeper Charlie Youngs before he was forced off with injury midway through the second-half.

THORNCOMBE 1 DOWLISH & DONYATT 0

A STUART Packer strike 17 minute from time was enough to earn the Thorns all three points at Horseshoe Lane.

DIVISION FOUR

LYME BANTAMS 5 CHARD RANGERS RES 0
LYME Bantams' third straight win was enough to earn a leap up to fourth spot after a comfortable 5-0 win over bottom-of-the-pile Chard Rangers Reserves at the Woodroffe School.

The Seaside's in fact struggled in the opening stages: "We were ok once we cut out some needless arguing, particularly up front", said Lyme player-manager Chris Simpson.

Once things improved Ben Morgan found himself unmarked at the back post to put Lyme ahead in the 24th minute.

Morgan added a second 10 minutes later to put the hosts in control at the interval.

Pete Peacock continued his remarkable record of scoring in every match he's played in an amber shirt with number three on the hour.

A Ben Morgan corner-kick was then powerfully headed home by centre-back Wallace Blackmore as Lyme clicked up through the gears.

The scoring was completed by Peacock who netted for the 20th time this season with a long-range effort that the visiting gloveman made a complete hash of.

Simpson picked-up Blackmore and goalkeeper Rob Thom as his top performers.

UPLYME RES 1 CHARD UTD RES 3

A MISSED penalty and a goal that was questionably ruled out for offside may just have cost Uplyme Reserves a point and the chance to end a losing streak that has now stretched to eight games.

Last Saturday's opponents, promotion-chasing Chard United Reserves, held a slender 1-0 lead at the turnaround which was doubled after the restart before an own goal gave the Swallows a foothold.

Chard restored their two-goal advantage before Steve Gillan had his spot kick saved.

Soon after, James Henley had the ball in the net for Uplyme only for referee Clive Crabb to disallow the goal for offside: "It looked perfectly ok to me", said Uplyme joint-manager Kieron Borgeat.

Ollie at the double

OLIVER Mears won two of the latest competitions organised by West Bay Sea Angling Club:

ABBOTSBURY – THURSDAY, OCTOBER 13TH EIGHTEEN members, and three guests, signed on with lots of dogfish caught during the rising tide together with a few small whiting and a codling caught by Hugh Rathbone.

Most members tried targeting cod using lugworm and squid, but due to the high numbers of dogfish, most struggled to catch anything else, although eight different species were caught.

Everyone enjoyed a warm, calm evening with a rising spring tide at 8.30pm

1st Hugh Rathbone 6450grms (1 cod 6 dogfish 2 pout 1 poor cod), 2nd Olly Mears 5550grms (6 dogfish 2 whiting 2 pout), 3rd Chris Harwood 5385grms (6 dogfish 2 pout 2 whiting 1 poor cod). Species pool: Paul House – five. Heaviest fish: Hugh Rathbone cod 1520grms WEST BEXINGTON – THURSDAY OCTOBER 20TH TWENTY-TWO fished with everyone enjoying a calm, warm evening with high tide at midnight.

All members caught plenty of whiting; in fact it was difficult to keep a bait out long enough to catch anything else.

1st Oliver Mears 5215grms (6 dogfish 6 whiting), 2nd Hugh Rathbone 4365grms (4 dogfish 6 whiting), 3rd Paul House 3825grms (3 dogfish 6 whiting 1 pout 1 scad)

Heaviest fish pool: Hugh Rathbone dogfish 875grms. Species Pool: Tony Colls – three. Top Lady: Frances Kitchen 1165grms 6 Whiting.

WEST BEXINGTON (DAYTIME MATCH) – SUNDAY OCTOBER 23RD TEN members fished a strong easterly gale with a rising tide.

Fishing was very difficult but it did stay dry and sunny. Only Adam Cullingford found a single whiting with 10 minutes to go, a single hook rig with lugworm at distance.

1st Adam Cullingford 175grms
ABBOTSBURY – THURSDAY OCTOBER 27TH EIGHTEEN members and two guests had a good night fishing a rising tide at 9pm.

Lots of dogfish and better sized whiting were caught, Phil Maggs catching the largest whiting of the night with a specimen of 765grms or 112%. Frozen mackerel was best bait on the night.

1st Phil Maggs 6580grms (6 dogfish 6 whiting), 2nd Hugh Rathbone 6015grms (6 dogfish 6 whiting 2 pout), 3rd Oliver Mears 5790grms (6 dogfish 6 whiting 2 pout 1 poor cod).

Heaviest fish pool: Simon Bowditch dogfish 920grms. Most species pool: P J Wheeler – four.

ANDY NEAL ROVER – SATURDAY, OCTOBER 29TH NINE members fished the latest match on a very blustery and wet evening with high tide at 9pm.

As there was little point trying to fish out of the strong SW winds a few decided to try their luck at Abbotbury and Cogden where a few fish were caught.

1st Oliver Mears 3800grms, 2nd Lea Windsor 3580grms, 3rd Adam Cullingford 3530grms.
Most species: Paul House – three. Best Fish: Mark Wickendon dogfish 905grms.

Bridport bowlers show 'bouncebackability'!

BRIDPORT INDOOR BOWLS NEWS with Brian Baker.

BRIDPORT Men's team fought like lions to defeat East Dorset 80-70 in the Wessex League picking up 12 of the 16 points available.

Leading the way were captain Brian Rumble's rink of Chris Thorne, Mike Long and Brian Conisbee who had a great 24-13 win at Christchurch. Arthur Stone, Bernard Winton, Keith Brookes and Bob Taylor competed well to only lose 14-20.

At home Peter Hunt, Brian Galpin, Brian Morgan and Ken Enticott were the stars as they won 26-17, with Brian Baker, Dave Roberts, Brian Conisbee and Bill Payne going down 16-20, Roberts, in particular had a fine game here. Spokesman Baker said: "To bounce back like this after our heavy defeat against Five Rivers shows what a great spirit we have in the side". Max Dare, Derek Harp and Ivor Parker will be pushing hard to return for the next match and we are having our best season for a long time.

Gordon Lee, Robin Pither, Brian Pratt and Max Dare and Chris Minas, David Aylott, Long and Rumble shared top rink title with 16-13 and 23-20 wins respectively against Sidmouth.

Sidmouth won the match overall as Penny Pither, Bernard Waterman, Phil Hedges and Thelma Pratt collapsed to a 13-44 defeat.

Battling Beaminster show their qualities

Beaminster 4 Bournemouth 3rd 3

BEAMINSTER Ladies' hockey team produced a superb fightback to wrest control from a physical, dominating Bournemouth 3rd's that looked to knock the home side out of their stride with a combination of brawn and skill.

After damping an opening flurry from Beaminster, it looked like their play had worked as they took a two goal lead in just 16 minutes.

However Beaminster fought back to even the score by the break, and despite falling behind with ten minutes remaining they hit back to score twice in the closing minutes to move back into second place in Channel Division 1.

Beaminster attacked from the start and forced an early unsuccessful short corner before the visitors took command.

They opened the scoring on eight minutes with a lofted shot from a reverse stick, and only a brilliant save by Rachel Andrews prevented their striker from adding a second when she burst through the home defence.

However they scored again on 16 minutes when Beaminster were caught out by a quickly taken free hit which was forced home at the far post.

Full of experienced players, Bournemouth were running the game using their physical advantage to good use.

But slowly Beaminster found their feet, and despite their relative lack of stature, they began to claw their way back into the game, and gained a toehold.

They cut the deficit on 23 minutes when Izzy Davies cut inside the D before flicking her shot under the keeper's foot.

However Bournemouth looked extremely dangerous in attack, and Andrews again produced a good save with her feet as the visitors looked to bounce back, but it was Beaminster that were now in the ascendancy.

A superb flowing move involving several players ended with the visiting keeper deflecting Freya Crawford's angled goalbound shot beyond the far post, before denying the same player a second time just a minute later after being put in by a measured pass from Julia May.

At the other end Andrews produced a brilliant reaction save to push a lifting ball over the cross bar

Beaminster were thwarted by another good save from the visiting keeper before she finally had to concede defeat a minute from the break when May thumped the ball home for the equaliser after Crawford had turned Hannah Dale's pass across the D, into her path.

The second half turned into a real battle with play switching from end to end. Bournemouth's best effort saw a shot zip across the D and just wide of the far post, whilst Davies' flick just went wide of the upright at the other end.

Just as it looked more likely that Beaminster might win the day, Bournemouth struck to regain the lead 10 minutes from time.

Andrews did well to stop their striker's full blooded strike into her midriff, but the ball dropped kindly for a visiting player to force it over the line.

However Beaminster produced a grandstand finish to take the points.

Crawford turned the ball home at the far post as Bournemouth desperately tried to clear their lines with four minutes left, before Davies clinched all three points when she drove home a low shot from Danni Donovan's injected short corner a minute later.

After last week's first reversal of the season, this win will have given the side a great boost.

Season ends on a brighter note

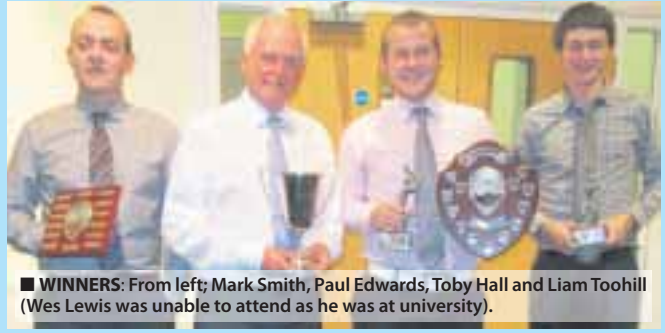

DESPITE a dismal season on the field, Bridport Cricket Club put their woes behind them to enjoy their annual presentation dinner which was held at West Dorset Golf Club recently.

The Hammond Cup was won by chairman Paul Edwards for major contributions to the club during the year which included the installation of new practice nets at the Brewery Ground.

Captain Mark Smith won the 1st XI Most Improved Player of 2011 award despite the trials and tribulations he had to contend with in a struggling side.

The 1st XI Players Player was Liam Toohill whilst the 1st XI Player of the Year was Wes Lewis.

Toby Hall did the double for the 2nd XI winning both the Players Player and Player of the Year awards.

■ WINNERS: From left; Mark Smith, Paul Edwards, Toby Hall and Liam Toohill (Wes Lewis was unable to attend as he was at university).

Bridport boxing

TICKETS are now on sale for Bridport Boxing Club's next tournament to be held at the Freshwater Holiday Park on Saturday, (November 19th) where head coach Alan Slaney is anticipating 17 bouts including at least one ladies match.

This year's guest is Mike Tyson's No 1 sparring partner Joe Egan, to whom Tyson claims is 'the toughest white-man on the planet'.

Egan will be presenting the trophies and will address the audience prior to the first bout.

Tickets are going well for the event which starts at 7.30pm, but there are still some left which can be purchased from Timpon's in West Street or Bridport Sports Shop in East Street, Bridport priced £15.

Tickets will also be available on the door and food will be available through the evening.

Bament's boot decides nailbiter

NOSTALGIA won for me on Saturday last. Although with hindsight, I would have had a more comfortable afternoon at Chard, I had to endure Honiton beating the Pirates Amateurs by no less than 58-10.

DORCHESTER 23 DEVIZES 20

THIS game was as close as the score suggests, with the result in doubt until the 80th minute.

The visitors, after a rather hurried preparation, started the brighter and took the lead with a converted try after some hesitation in the home defence.

Dorchester edged themselves back into the game via the boot of Bament who kicked two penalty goals, before a second converted try took Devizes a score clear.

The home side were beginning to have the edge in the tight however, especially the set scrums; but conversely were conceding far too many penalties to turn this edge into points.

They kicked two further penalties of their own however and, after an even first-half, the score stood at 12-14 at the halfway stage.

The second-half was really a mirror image of the first, with both sides having their moments. The deadlock was broken however by flanker, Miners. He peeled off a maul near halfway and had the pace to round the cover and score out wide. The try remained unconverted but gave the home side the lead for the first time at 17-14.

Devizes then came back, pounding the home line, and their persistence was finally rewarded with a penalty that they duly converted to tie things up at 17-17. They were wide with two more attempts however and with five minutes left, Bament kicked his fifth penalty of the day to edge his side in front.

More was yet to come. Dorchester took a wrong option in trying to run the ball out of defence and were caught in possession. The penalty was conceded and duly goaled to again level the scores. Dorchester launched one last attack from the restart however and, after a couple of phases, the Devizes centres were caught offside in midfield. Bament held his nerve and trusted his method and his kick bisected the poles, taking his side to a win after the closest of close run things.

If nothing else, this win demonstrated just how narrow the margin is between success and failure. Dorchester have suffered three narrow defeats in a row, and this result goes some way to restoring the balance.

It was a necessary win also; for a loss would have taken them well into the lower half of the table and, while I do not remotely think that they are a candidate for relegation, they can certainly do without getting involved in that particular dogfight.

BOB BUCKER RACING

BY STUART BROOM

Digger gives rivals jumping lesson

AN AMAZING display of jumping was how Bob Buckler described Double Dizzy's performance at Cheltenham on Friday.

The 10-year-old, although beaten into third place after turning for home in the lead, produced an exhilarating round of jumping in the Glenfarclas Cross Country Chase over all but four miles that had jockey Andrew Glassonbury declaring "I've never ridden a horse that has jumped so perfectly all the way round. He was brilliant."

The cross country course run on the inside of the normal Cheltenham course combines a mixture of 32 different types of obstacles from timber poles to ditches and banks and a replica of the Canal Turn fence at Aintree, and is a good test of a horse's ability to jump different types of fences.

Glassonbury had Digger, as he is affectionately called at home, always up near the front, and after jumping the third last took a two length lead.

Eventual winner Uncle Junior and odds-on favourite Garde Champetre, who has won five times in his 11 races over this course, joined him in a row as they jumped the last, and they finally got the better of Buckler's horse as they ran up the hill to the finish.

A delighted Buckler said: "What an amazing display of jumping! He didn't put a foot wrong and made ground over his rivals at every fence.

"So good was his jumping that I had people who I have never met coming up to me over the Friday and Saturday at the course congratulating me and saying what a superb display of jumping it was.

A little disappointed that he was beaten on the run in, Buckler added: "He was beaten by two good horses, but I've noticed before at Cheltenham that sometimes coming up the hill at the finish he gets distracted; I don't know if it is the noise of the crowd.

"He may well go over the cross country course at Cheltenham in December and next March, and end his season at Punchestown in April.

"He is rated at 110 and was racing against Garde Champetre with a rating of 156, and only getting 6lb in that race, so a handicap race will give him a better chance.

"In the meantime he will go back to hunting as he doesn't like normal training methods and gets fed up, and I might try him in a 3¼ mile race at Fontwell which has plenty of sharp turns."

There was disappointment however on Sunday when Sulpis was pulled up in the Ocasan - Not All Heroes Wear Capes Novices' Handicap Hurdle at Fontwell in which Buckler was expecting him to go close.

"I can't understand it; he ran an appalling race and there appears no real reason for it. I was expecting him to go close but he was beaten a long way from home.

"Admittedly the ground was horrible and only four of the ten finished, and maybe he doesn't act on real heavy ground.

"There's nothing obvious as to why

THE home side were caught cold by their opponents who ran in two tries during the opening exchanges to take a 10 point lead before the game was ten minutes old.

Puddletown settled however, won some possession and, although they got themselves back into the game they did not reduce the arrears until some ten minutes before the change round, when Yeatman kicked a penalty goal.

The visitors restored their 10-point lead with a penalty goal of their own within five minutes of the restart but the next few minutes belonged to Puddletown. They kicked a penalty award to touch, won the lineout and fed full back Udell, coming at pace. He got over by the posts and, with Yeatman adding the extras and kicking a subsequent penalty goal, the home side were level at 13-13 on the hour mark.

Both sides had their moments in attack during the final few minutes but, to home chagrin, it was Wimborne who made the most of their opportunities, kicking two penalties to take the result.

WESTBURY 11 WEYMOUTH 10

WEYMOUTH would have been rather disappointed with their afternoon's work.

They fell behind to a home penalty goal after just ten minutes play, and gifted Westbury a try 10 minutes later. In fact they contributed little to a lacklustre first-half, with Westbury being the more tenacious outfit, and generally speaking looking like the side that "wanted it more".

The score remained at 8-0 at the halfway stage but Weymouth did rouse themselves, albeit only temporarily in the second half, and got a try back through McCorniche after their pack had driven the home side back at a scrum close to their line.

They could not maintain the tempo however and Westbury stretched away with a penalty goal with 10 minutes left. Weymouth did throw themselves something of a life line in the final few minutes when Will Quick got over. The try was scored out wide however, and the conversion kick, that would have given them the lead was unsuccessful.

As it was, Westbury played out time with little trouble and Weymouth ended the day frustrated. Not a good day at the office!

WEYMOUTH 2nd 4 WHEATSHEAF CABIN CREW 0

THE Weymouth second side proved too good for their rather large and lumpy opponents, and had the bonus point win sewn up by the halfway stage.

After Rob Smith had opened the scoring, two tries apiece from Gordon Tye and Sam Polly settled the issue.

Andy Bowditch too got on the score sheet, as did centre pair-and we will run some blood test to check him out."

Malin Head had his first run for more than 18 months in the racinglottery.co.uk Novices' Hurdle (Division 2) at Exeter and finished a disappointing ninth.

"He needed a run, but I didn't realise he needed that much," said Buckler. "Having not run for so long he is obviously quite fat inside, as happens with any human or animal that hasn't exercised properly for so long. He jumped and trevelled well and the run will do him good, but we now need to work on him more."

Johns Gift on the same card was also disappointing in the Standish Family Anniversary Handicap Chase where Buckler expected him to go quite close. As it was he made a couple of blunders, one very bad one which almost pitched jockey Andrew Thornton off and knocked the stuffing out of the horse.

"He is usually a brilliant jumper, but he does have a tendency to look around and sometimes misses a fence out, so we might well experiment with blinkers or cheek pieces to keep him concentrated."

There is good news about Baron Sutton who it was thought might have strained a tendon on his debut at Wincanton recently that suggested he may be out for the season.

Buckler reported that in fact there is no damage to the tendon, but he does have some superficial fluid around the joint which should only sideline him for a couple of weeks.

ing Tom May and Mike Robinson.

Tye kicked three conversions to complete the scoring and, with Geldard making a welcome return to the fold after injury, and both Grieg and Cowden both going well, Weymouth ended the day with a most comfortable win.

Not such good news for the Weymouth third side which came unstuck 43-0 at their Wimborne counterparts.

SWANAGE & WAREHAM 18 BRIDPORT 14

FROM the opening exchanges this game was a contest between the rather large home eight and the Bridport quicker outsiders.

The home side certainly won the territorial battle in the first-half but could not make it count, and a penalty goal was their only reward.

Swanage & Wareham were made to sit up and take notice however when, some ten minutes after the break, out half King did a "show and go" and slid over by the posts from the twenty two. He converted his own try to give his side a 7-3 lead that was completely against the run of play.

The home side then went back to basics. They ground their way forward principally through the maul, and scored three tries, all unconverted, at regular intervals during the half.

The Bridport lighter pack, although defending stoutly, had difficulty winning useable possession but, with just five minutes left for play, the ball came to Dave Cutting in midfield.

He set off, slipping the odd tackle and being grounded but not held on occasion. He kept going however and eventually made the line.

King again converted to take his side within losing bonus point range and, although Swanage & Wareham went looking for a bonus point of their own at the last, scoring the fourth try proved to be beyond them as Bridport held on.

It may be that Bridport seconds were a little guilty of under-estimating visitors Verwood, a side who have not won too many in the league this term.

In any event the final score of 20 points apiece would have been far more to the visitors' liking than to that of the home side.

PREVIEW

THE big game of the of Saturday next is the one between local rivals WEYMOUTH and BRIDPORT. Now just a few weeks ago I would have come down very heavily on the side of the former.

They have home advantage, they are currently on top of the Dorset & Wilts league Division One (South) and have lost only once in the division thus far.

I watched Bridport take on Ivel Barbarians some six weeks ago. They did not have great shape to their game and they were well beaten.

I watched them on November 5th too and, although their opposition was not of the strongest, they played with a far better pattern and won with ease. The question is, have Bridport progressed sufficiently from their lack lustre start to the season to enable them to challenge Weymouth at home?

I have to say that I feel that Saturday will prove to be a game too far for the visitors, and they Weymouth will end the day as winners. It will be no cakewalk for them however.

Bridport will certainly "give them a game" always assuming that they can keep 15 bodies on the field throughout. The fact that this one is a local derby certainly makes forecasting more difficult, but I will stick with Weymouth, but not by too much!

DORCHESTER will certainly not find beating visitors, FROME, easy. Their opponents, who lie a couple of places above them in the table, have recently fought out a 19-19 draw at leaders Sherborne, who in turn had narrowly bested Dorchester at Dorchester previously.

This one will be close, although I do tend to favour the visitors, the more especially as the home side find difficulty turning pressure into points at the moment, and much will depend on the accuracy of Bamen's place kicking.

Home side EAST DORSET will certainly not provide easy pickings for PUDDLETOWN for both sides have beaten bottom club Wincanton by similar margins this season, in the only form guide available.

Having said that, while East Dorset enjoyed home advantage for their encounter, Puddletown had to travel to win. I think that this one will be close.

As to the second sides, Bridport will prove too strong for Lytchett Minster who have won only once in the league this season, while Dorchester might just make home advantage tell after a tussle with visitors, New Milton.

A win will not come easy for Weymouth at its Wimborne counterparts, while Weymouth thirds may well have a mountain to climb against top of the table Frome thirds, home advantage notwithstanding.

Fixtures 19th November:

Bridport v Weymouth (away); Bridport 2nd v Lytchett Minster 2nd; Chard v Keynsham (away); Chard 2nd v Minehead Barbarians 2nd; Chard 3rd v Minehead Barbarians 3rd; Crewkerne v Cheddar Valley; Dorchester v Frome; Dorchester 2nd v New Milton 2nd; Honiton v Plymouth Barbarians (away); Honiton 2nd v Exmouth 3rd; Puddletown v East Dorset (away); Sidmouth v Oldfield Old Boys; Sidmouth 2nd v Topsham (away); Sidmouth 3rd v Okehampton 3rd; Weymouth v Bridport; Weymouth 2nd v Wimborne 2nd (away); Weymouth 3rd v Frome 3rd.

Bridport youth football

BRIDPORT under 11s had a one sided afternoon with a 21-0 win over Chickerell United on Sunday with goals from Cameron Sayers (5), James Cox (5) Jaydon Brown (4) Harrison Tuck (4), George Wyrill (2), William Clarke and an own goal. The under 11s are now well clear at the top of the league and unbeaten.

The under 9s were defeated by Weymouth Youth on a difficult pitch. Weymouth had only lost once in nine games, but Bridport pushed them all the way in an exciting game. Michael Bodycombe scored the first goal and Jay Huxter the second, but Weymouth were to strong on the day. Sam Ashton was named Man-of-the-Match.

The under 14s made it through to the quarter finals of the Dorset Youth Cup, but they made it very difficult for themselves going behind 3-1 before recovering for an eventual 9-4 victory.

The goals came from Liam Sayers (4) Freddy Woolner (3) Jon Paul Avery and Kyle Napier. They have a tough quarter-final draw however against Corfe Mullen who knocked them out at the same stage two years ago.

The under 10 Jets were unlucky to be defeated 4-2 by Dorchester Swifts who were third in the table and started the better of the two teams.

However Bridport battled hard, hitting the post six times and were a touch unfortunate with the visitors defence clearing a few goalmouth scrambles.

Marcus Burt scored one of the Bridport goals and the other an own goal. Manager Andrew Hardie paid credit to the 10 Bridport players for an impressive all round performance.

In other results the under 15s bowed out of the County cup losing 9-2 at Broadstone.

In the league there were wins for the under 12s who won 8-2 at Weymouth Wizards, and the under 13 Bees who triumphed 7-2 against Poole Town Wessex.

Bridport Wanderers lost 8-1 against Longfleet and the Under 16s drew 1-1 with Hampton Matravrs.

Six-goal Terras burn down Thatcham

Weymouth on cruise control

WEYMOUTH 6 THATCHAM TOWN 1 - ATT: 367

AFTER dramatically snatching a replay with a last kick goal from Jamie Beasley, Weymouth cruised through to the third qualifying round of the FA Trophy with a four goal first-half salvo.

Thatcham had two players sent-off in the first match, but this time it was the Terras Richard Marshall who was dismissed in the second-half for two yellow cards, but it made little difference as Warren Byerley bagged a hat-trick with two late goals.

The Terras took the lead on two minutes when Thatcham failed to clear Stephen Reed's free kick properly and Byron Napper played in an unmarked Beasley on the right who drove the ball through visiting keeper Paul Strudley's legs.

The keeper then made a double save from Ben Gerring and Byerley before he was beaten again on 18 minutes. He failed to reach Beasley's cross allowing Byerley to nod the ball back into Malsom's path who volleyed home from eight yards.

The keeper was not having the best of nights and appeared unsighted by Malsom ducking under Beasley's 20-yard drive from the edge of the box which he let slip through his hands at the near post for Weymouth's third.

Weymouth continued to make chances and Malsom should have converted the rebound from close range after Strudley could only parry Reed's shot.

However soon after he produced a curling cross from the right which the unmarked Byerley flying in at the far post, headed home from close range to give Weymouth a 4-0 lead after just 37 minutes.

The game effectively over Weymouth appeared happy to go through the motions after the interval, but Gareth Thomas forced Manley into a point blank save just after Marshall's dismissal.

However, he offended at the other end minutes later when he upended sub Craig Duff, and Byerley casually beat Strudley from the penalty spot.

Thatcham to their credit continued to keep attacking and they were rewarded five minutes from the end when Sam Flegg beat Manley with a well placed sidefooted shot from just inside the edge of the box.

Byerley completed his hat trick two minutes from the end when he scored at the second attempt after Strudley had blocked his first effort before Thatcham signed off by striking the woodwork twice through Tom Etheridge and Jemel Johnson.

Critchell's late winner boosts Magpies

DORCHESTER 1 HAMPTON & RICHMOND 0 - ATT: 447

KYLE Critchell grabbed a dramatic last minute winner to increase caretaker manager Phil Simkin's unbeaten run in charge to five games and lift the Magpies to ninth in the Blue Square South.

After a lacklustre first-half, Dorchester picked the pace up after the interval but despite creating a number of chances they appeared to have wasted the opportunity to continue their good run since Ashley Vickers was relieved of his duties three weeks ago.

In fact it looked as if the Beavers might snatch all the points in the last 15 minutes as suddenly it was Dorchester that found themselves defending, but just as it looked as if they would have to settle for a point, Critchell provided the last gasp winner.

In a match that didn't have a malicious tackle, James Simmonds became the seventh player to be booked by referee Dan Cook, for pushing over Ashley Nicholls 25 yards from goal.

Beaver's keeper Craig Ross who had pulled off several good saves to keep his side in the game missed Ben Dickenson's inswinging free-kick into a crowded penalty area and the ball appeared to strike Critchell as he challenged and rolled into the net.

Simkin was able to name an unchanged starting line-up to the one that gained an excellent point at Chelmsford City on Monday.

The first half produced few scoring opportunities as both sides appeared to lack the ability to string too many passes together. Ryan Moss's cross was headed behind for a corner by Beavers skipper Matt Ruby, before the striker's shot-cum-cross missed the far post and the intruding Dickenson.

The Magpies were dealt a blow on 31 minutes when Moss had to be replaced by Rico Wilson after he suffered a blow to his lower ribs when heading a corner away.

It was Wilson however that helped set up the county town's best chance of the first-half when he fed Nick Crittenden wide on the right. His inch perfect cross was met a soaring Dickenson but his thumping header flew wide of the left hand post.

Alan Walker-Harris once more proved what a great signing he has been soon after when he was called upon to keep the Magpies level.

Dave Tarpey, who kept the Magpies defence on their toes all afternoon, cleverly tricked his way past two defenders before firing in a fierce shot which Walker-Harris saved with his legs as a disappointing first-half came to a close.

The second-half began at a much higher tempo and Joel Ledgister had Walker-Harris diving to his left to stop his 20-yard shot that took a deflection off Jake Smeeton.

Immediately Wilson headed over Neil Martin's cross before Dickenson went even closer with a curling left foot shot from the corner of the penalty area that just cleared the angle of the goal frame.

The later errant Ross then produced a superb double save from Crittenden on 52 minutes. Wilson and Martin combined well down the left before the latter's cross was met by the former Glover on the volley which Ross beat away before grabbing the loose ball at his feet as he followed up.

Crittenden who once again showed that whilst he may have lost a little of his speed, has lost none of his skill and guile, then fired in a free-kick which Ross punched away under pressure back to Crittenden, who immediately fired in a stunning drive which just cleared the bar.

Little was seen of the Hampton attack at this point, but Simmonds did test Walker-Harris, but his volley from the edge of the box was straight at the keeper.

However, with nothing to lose, the visitors grew in confidence and Walker-Harris was forced to palm away Tarpey's 25-yard free-kick before having to punch away Ledgister's cross, before the on-loan striker shot straight at him. At the other end Martin finished an impressive run with a weak shot.

With time running out Walker-Harris almost gifted the Beavers a goal when he let Tarpey's shot slip out of his fingers as he went to gather over his head. Fortunately he managed to pull the ball back from crossing the line as Ledgister knocked him down in his efforts to get to the ball to concede a free-kick.

In added time Martin blasted wide from 30 yards before Critchell's last gasp winner.

A minute's silence was held before the match as an act of remembrance, whilst a half-time collection raised £126.56 for the Royal British Legion.

No immediate decision expected on new Magpies boss

WITH still more interviews planned for this week and the probability of second meetings with some of the candidates, Dorchester Town Chairman Shaun Hearn believes no decision on a successor to Ashley Vickers is expected until at least the end of this week.

Speaking with VIEW SPORT after last Saturday's home game against Hampton & Richmond Borough that saw caretaker manager Phil Simkin's side make it four wins and a draw since he took temporary charge, the chairman said: 'We've had five or six come in this week for a chat and three more next week. We've made some headway but having spoken to some people, we need to speak to some of them again in a second interview. We've seen so many positives in everyone we have spoken to, the quality is very impressive.'

'Whatever we will do, we will take our time; it's vitally important to get the right person for the job.'

Hearn was pleased with the number of applications, but was also full of credit for the current management team and the efforts of the players.

'We had 26 in total apply for the job which is good considering we didn't advertise it, and it's quite flattering the interest we have had.'

'Obviously Phil (Simkin) and Jem (Mark Jermyn) have done a good job, and Gary Borthwick has also come in. They have motivated the lads well, and they have responded positively and so we are on a bit of a roll at the moment which is good.'

Hearn also indicated that the club needed to stay sound financially and that the successful candidate needed to be aware of that fact, he said: 'The guys at the football club are good people, and it's important that this club continues to live within its means whilst taking it to the next level. We can't break the bank for anybody, whether it's a player or manager, it's the same for both.'

'At the moment we'll just enjoy the results that have come our way. The lads worked hard again today and I think they deserved to win in the end.'

Terras dig-in for victory

HEMEL HEMPSTEAD 1 WEYMOUTH 2 - ATT: 314

DESPITE having an extra man for 80 minutes, Weymouth had to dig in to hold on for victory against lowly Hemel Hempstead at Vauxhall Road on Saturday in their latest Evo-Stick Southern Premier game.

Charlie Gorman, who had only put pen to paper and signed a contract for the Tudors a day earlier, received a straight red card for a two footed tackle on Ben Gerring after 10 minutes which made the home sides task even harder to climb away from the relegation area.

However, after pulling a goal back midway through the second half after Weymouth had looked in command with goals from Warren Byerley and Matt Groves, the Terras were forced to dig-in as Hemel sought a share of the spoils.

Without a league win since September, Hemel who were looking to continue some fine recent form in the cup competitions had already had Warren Goodhand booked for a tackle on Ben Malsom before Gorman's dismissal.

Weymouth took time to settle and it wasn't until midway through the half that they had their first effort on goal with Jamie Beasley firing over after making room for himself. Byerley then headed wide before Ryan O'Hara had a great opportunity to give the Tudors the lead, but he appeared surprised when the ball was deflected into his path and sliced his shot wide from close in.

Soon after Ross Lafayette headed wide as the ten-men grew in confidence, and then set up Lewis Toomey who failed to hit the target with only Tom Manley to beat just two minutes before the break.

Weymouth finally registered their first serious effort right on the whistle but Tudor's keeper Nick Bussey thwarted Byerley at his near post.

Weymouth got into the match after the interval and finally broke the deadlock on 50 minutes from the penalty spot when Matt McEntegart was adjudged to have handled Sam Malsom's driven effort; Byerley sending Bussey the wrong way.

Almost immediately Manley was called on to keep his side ahead when he saved well from Toomey after Lafayette had played him in before it appeared Groves had made the game safe for Weymouth when he poked home the rebound after Bussey had turned Byerley's 30-yard shot onto the crossbar.

Hemel responded well and two minutes later had cut the deficit when Jack Eades threaded the ball through to Marvin Williams who sent a cross to the on racing Josh Scowen to neatly finish from eight yards.

This lifted Hemel's spirits and they swept forward bombarding the Weymouth defence with a succession of corners. Eades went close with a curling effort and McEntegart headed over from close in before Manley received a blow to the head saving from Williams, forcing him to retire and be replaced by Tom Povall, but Weymouth held on for their third consecutive away victory.

Evans agony as Bees falter again

BRIDPORT 0 ODD DOWN 1 - ATT: 99

A DRAMATIC finish saw Odd Down keeper Steve Scannell save Shane Evans' penalty and deny Bridport the opportunity of going to extra-time in this Les Phillips Cup tie.

Once again the Bees had created the better chances but as so often this season they had failed to take advantage.

Manager Trevor Senior rang the changes with the unavailability of Tom Richardson, by playing Joe Charles up front alongside brother Sam and it turned out to be quite a productive if unfruitful combination.

Odd Down started at pace and brothers Troy and Kye Simpson tested home keeper Sam Filkins in the opening minutes, but the game then settled down to be fairly even.

Joe Charles was unlucky twice within minutes on the half hour. First Scannell palmed his header over the bar, and two minutes later, although another header this time beat the visiting gloveman, a defender was on hand to head it off the line.

Joe Charles became provider two minutes later when he puts his brother through on goal, but Scannell thwarted him as he bore down on goal by deflecting the ball for a corner.

Soon it was Filkins showing his keeping prowess, when midfielder Gino Necco tested him from distance with a shot that brought an excellent save.

The second half like the first was nip and tuck. Scannell tipped Sam Charles' header over the bar before the striker spurned another one-on-one opportunity with Scannell again deflecting it for a corner.

Then on 76 minutes Odd Down scored decisive goal when they broke up a Bees attack and quickly countered. A run and cross down the right found defender Bradley Newman at the far corner of the penalty area. He controlled the ball before swivelling and driving a low accurate shot just inside the up-right giving Filkins no chance.

It seemed as if Bridport had been given the ideal opportunity to at least take it to extra time when sub Adam Symes was brought down by Newman inside the area, but Scannell brilliantly saved Evans' spot kick.

Unfortunately Necco was shown a red card right at the final whistle for kicking Jamie Morgan to sour an absorbing football match.

Stur hit by Clarke hat-trick

STURMINSTER MARSHALL 1 BRIDPORT RESERVES 5

BRIDPORT Reserves followed last week's goal feast with an excellent win at Sturminster Marshall, a result that sees them leap frog their hosts and move into ninth spot in the Magna Dorset Premier League.

Three up at the break, they coasted through the second half with Ben Clarke completing his hat trick before the hosts grabbed a late consolation.

Clarke got his first inside two minutes following good work between man-of-the-match Dom McAllister and Carl Bulman.

Bridport continued to dominate, and although Jamie Fry was forced into a point blank save from Joe Wood's header, went further ahead midway through the half when Clarke headed home Robin Jones' right wing cross.

Adam Steele then rifled home a 25-yard drive soon after and it was game over.

The second half was much the same and Clarke completed his hat trick on the hour when he nipped between a defender and keeper Andy Talbot to lob the ball home. McAllister crowned an excellent game when he drove home Bridport's fifth from 15 yards from an acute angle ten minutes from time. Darrell Williams then grabbed a late consolation for Stur with a good header.

Joint manager Steve Crabb was delighted with his side that have completed back-to-back victories and scored 12 goals.

'We were very good again and controlled the game from the start. It was a comfortable win and a good team performance in which Dom McAllister stood out with his best game of the season' said Crabb.

This Saturday they host Upwey & Broadway who currently lead Dorset Senior League, in the second round of the Dorset Senior Trophy.

Crabb is concerned as to what team he will be able to play because of the rules regarding players being cup tied having played in a higher league.

'It would be nice to keep the side we have played in the last two matches for some kind of continuity, but the rules prevent me using three who have played for the first team in some capacity this season, so we will have to wait and see who is eligible.'

◆ This same problem caused Bridport Thirds to take to the field with just nine players in their Dorset Intermediate Cup tie at Milborne Port on Saturday.

With eight players unavailable, several being cup tied, nine man Bridport were thrashed 11-0.

Senior awaits Magpies decision

HAVING been interviewed for the vacant Dorchester Town manager's post last week, Bridport boss Trevor Senior must sit and wait a decision.

A former Magpie player, Senior who went on to make his name as the record goalscorer for Reading, was interviewed for the job last week. He was among nine candidates chosen for interview from the 26 applicants, and with interviews continuing this week before a second round with some expected after, it is unlikely that a decision will be made until next week.

Senior said: "I was pleased with how discussions went and now await further developments. I have kept the Bridport chairman and committee fully aware of the situation, but for now there is nothing more to say."

Meanwhile Senior saw his side once again fail to take their chances at home to Odd Down in the Les Phillips Cup and exit to a Bradley Newman goal 16 minutes from time.

Shane Evans had a great chance to take the game into extra time with a last minute penalty but his kick was saved by Steve Scannell.

"Once again we did okay but didn't take our chances; we are not clinical enough. I thought as a defensive unit we looked very solid and limited them to long range shooting in the main."

"Whilst they probably shaded the possession in the first-half, they didn't get too close to goal and whilst Sam Filkins had to pull off a couple of good saves, they were from distance, and I thought 0-0 was about right at the break."

With Tom Richardson unavailable, Senior experimented by pushing Joe Charles up front alongside brother Sam.

"They worked quite well together and both had chances on goal, and Joe in fact set Sam up for one of them," said Senior.

Reflecting on the penalty miss, Senior said: "Shane was a bit unlucky to be fair as the keeper pulled off a good save. Shane was brave enough to take responsibility as Dan Wise was not on the pitch."

"It was unfortunate as I had only made the switch with four minutes to go, sending on Lee Cleal just in the hope that he might find something different, and two minutes later we get the penalty and Dan's not there."

Senior is not one to usually pick out players for special mention but he felt that Ryan Hayter's contribution couldn't be ignored.

"Ryan was outstanding. I don't pick out players very often for special praise but he has risen to the challenge of playing at higher grade football superbly, and has been consistent throughout the season. His concentration, distribution and reading of the game have stood him in good stead."

"I'm please how the team as a whole have reacted after the Bitton match. We created the better chances but it's disappointing we didn't convert them."
